U.S. Policies Are Rapped By Students

Some Defy Nation, Others Take No Part In Demonstration

NEW YORK (AP)—Fifty American students who defied a State Department ban on travel to Cuba returned by plane from Madrid Thursday night, many of them still defiant of U.S. policies.

Some of the students staged a "stand-in" at Idlewild Airport to protest a government announcement that their passports would be invalidated.

The "stand-in" ended two hours later when they were told their passports would not be marked invalid. However, each student was presented with a State Department letter noting that his or her passport had been suspended because of the trip to Cuba.

"We consider this another victory," said Lee Levi Laub of New York, a former Columbia University student.

Ten of the students were subpoenaed to appear Sept. 12 before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

When the group left their plane, most of them walked into the Customs Building quietly.

But one student, not identified, fell to his knees and kissed the ground.

A spokesman for the group said five students decided not to take part in the Idlewild demonstration. The spokesman added that only about five "disliked what they saw in Cuba."

Larry Phelps, one of those served with a subpoena, said he is from North Carolina and is a graduate of the University of North Carolina.

"I can't understand why I was served," Phelps said. "Of course, I'll have to go there (Washington)."

Philip Luce of New York City contended that in going to Cuba the students had exercised their constitutional rights and had violated no rules or laws. He referred to the Cuban visit as "a magnificent experience to all."

The United States restricts travel to Cuba, with which it has no diplomatic relations.

Richard Thorne of Berkeley, Calif., a Negro, told newsmen: "I saw schools in Cuba and no discrimination. The party leaders were honest."

Don Rainman, a University of California student, remarked: "The people have an unprecedented enthusiasm for Fidel Castro. They have not lost their zeal for the revolution."

The students who originally numbered 59, went first to Czechoslovakia, then Havana. They went to Madrid from Havana last Sunday.

Of the original 59, one died in Cuba, three remained there, one returned earlier to Boston, and four decided to stay in Madrid a bit longer.

Concerning the invalidation of their passports, Clark Foreman, director of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, said the courts would have to decide whether such a procedure was legal.

Mine Union Aides Standing Trial Again

DENVER (AP)—A former officer of the independent International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union testified in Federal Court Thursday that he and several other union officials attended a Communist Party meeting in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1957.

The testimony came at the opening of a trial of seven present or former Mine-Mill officials. They are accused of conspiring to defraud the federal government by filing false non-Communist affidavits with the National Labor Relations Board.

This is their second trial. The 10th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed their convictions in a seven-week trial in 1959.

Ralph W. Locke Jr. of Torrance, Calif., the first government witness, testified he is a former official of the Mine-Mill Union and a former member of the Communist Party.

He said that among union officers attending a meeting of Communist Party members on the Mine-Mill staff in 1948 were Maurice Travis of Richmond, Calif., on-time union secretary-treasurer; Irving Ditcher of Denver secretary-treasurer, and Raymond B. Dennis of Cleveland, a member of the union's executive board.

Castro Regime Alerts Military

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government put its armed forces on a state of alert today and posted bigger concentrations of soldiers and militia men at strategic points throughout Havana.

Armed forces had been put into a "state of preparation" Thursday, but beefed-up military measures were reported then only outside the capital and not in Havana.

The new moves followed intelligence reports of possible incursions by anti-Castro exiles against installations on the North Coast. According to military intelligence, these raids would be somewhat larger than the hit-and-run attacks made by exiles recently.

(In San Jose, Costa Rica, reports circulated of unusual activity among Cuban exiles in Costa Rica and Nicaragua. Manuel Artime, refugee leader who participated in the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion in April 1961, arrived in Managua, Nicaragua, to confer with anti-Castro exiles, sources said.)

There was no evidence of alarm in Havana, but tight security measures were reported outside the capital.

The Cuban command apparently braced for a repetition of a recent series of hit-and-run raids. The last occurred Aug. 19 at a metal plant on the north coast where there are many oil refineries and factories.

The Castro government has accused the United States of being directly responsible for the raids. It said the forays proved there was a new plan of aggression against Cuba and said Cuban defenses would be strengthened.

A spokesman for a Cuban exile group called Mambises Commandos told newsmen in Guatemala City his organization made the Aug. 19 raid. He said the commandos operated from secret bases in the Caribbean and from inside Cuba.

Cuban refugees arriving in Florida have reported Soviet troop activity in the Cuban capital. They said bridges and strategic points around Havana have been taken over by Soviet soldiers, causing some apprehension among Fidel Castro's forces.

At a news conference Aug. 20, President Kennedy said there had been a further decline in the number of Soviet troops in Cuba the last few months, but added it was difficult to say how many remained.

Kennedy said the primary emphasis of the remaining troops apparently was for training purposes and not as concentrated military units.

A spokesman for the Air Force refused to comment on the possibility of a collision.

The key items were three life rafts, identified as the kind the four-engine KC135s would have carried. Each plane would have had only two aboard, the Air Force Service said. The rafts were found within 60 miles of each other.

A helmet stenciled "Gardner" was so found in the same area. Capt. Gerald Gardner of Lincoln, Neb., was aboard one of the planes.

The strato-tankers were returning to Homestead Air Force Base, south of Miami, where they were stationed with the 19th Bomb Wing Wednesday when they lost radio contact about noon.

Once Around Roundtown

A ROUTE 4 resident brought a huge puffball mushroom into The Herald office this week.

Bob Weaver, who found the specimen near his home, said it weighed 8½ pounds. He noted that many people consider puffballs quite palatable.

Final Apple Prices Given Processors

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Final offering prices to apple processors in an eight-state area were announced Thursday by George Downes, acting chairman of the Apple Division, Ohio Agricultural Marketing Association.

He said prices for Ohio apples used in processing will be $3.75 per 100 pounds for U.S. No. 1 premium canners, 2½ inches and up, for the varieties of Stayman, Jonathan and Northern Spies. All other U.S. No. 1 canners, 2½ inches or more, will sell for $3.50 per 100 pounds, while juice apples will sell for $1.75, he said.

Apples will be available to processors at these prices until Sept. 4, after which they will be offered elsewhere, Downes said.

Shunned Boy Returns, Robs Firm of $512

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Coral Gables loan firm several days ago turned down a young man's request for money because he was under 21.

"Come back with a co-signer," said Charles Jones, the manager. The young man returned Thursday with another youth and a revolver.

They fled with $512.

Mysterious 'Body' Seen In Mine Rescue Chamber

"SHOULD HAVE BEEN OUT BY FIFTH DAY" — Rescued from a coal mine cavern at Shepperton, Pa., with his companion, Henry Throne, miner David Fellin is wheeled out of his hospital room in Hazelton for the first time, en route to a news conference. He told newsmen, "I should have been out by the fifth day (he was entombed 15 days)." He said rescue workers should have dug through the mine's blocked passageway instead of drilling an escape shaft from surface.

News of World in Brief

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Traffic was in a pickle this morning on Reynolds Road near Dor Street. As a truck went around a curve, 90 crates of pickles slid off. Traffic was tied up for about two hours while the estimated 10,000 pickles were cleared from the roadway.

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Some 1,125 employees of the D.W.G. Cigar Corp. plant here walked off their jobs in a wildcat strike today.

The dispute apparently involves the company's refusal to permit Teamsters Union representatives to enter the plant to notify the workers that the Teamsters have been certified by the National Labor Relations Board as their bargaining agent.

A company spokesman said notification would be posted on bulletin boards throughout the plant.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Carl L. Mosley Jr., 37, of Columbus today was named administrative assistant to Ohio Wildlife Division Chief Dale E. Whitesell.

Mosley is a native of Barborton and a graduate of Ohio State University.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There have been so many clerical errors in data forwarded to the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation's central office that verification is necessary before figures are released to press, radio and television, Administrator Willard P. Dudley says.

An administrative letter sent to local office managers, department heads and directors, asking them to make sure statistical information released in the field is verified, was not intended to close any doors to reporters, Dudley told Gov. James A. Rhodes.

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A threatened strike at Monarch Rubber Co. in Hartsville has been averted with ratification by the United Rubber Workers Union of a new 12-cent package over two years.

A URW spokesman said 750 of 800 members of Local 99 turned out Thursday night to approve the two-year pact that runs to Aug. 31, 1965. It provides for an immediate six-cent hourly across-the-board wage increase and another six-cent hike at the start of the second year of the contract, plus improvements in working conditions.

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Five Negro students were enrolled without incident today at three previously all-white Charleston public schools in South Carolina's first school integration below the college level. Public school integration came a day after the Roman Catholic Church opened its eight white elementary schools here to Negroes. Calm prevailed as 15 of 202 eligible Negroes chose to attend integrated classes.

NEW YORK (AP) — Veronica Lake, who became a movie sensation in the 1940s with her peepaboo hairdo, returned to acting Thursday night.

"I was scared silly," said Miss Lake after the performance, her debut on the New York stage.

"But it was great. Damn, it's great to be back."

When she came on stage midway in the first act of "Best Foot Forward" at the off-Broadway Stage 73 Theater, applause stopped the action momentarily.

NEW YORK (AP)—James M. Landis, former dean of the Harvard Law School, was sentenced to 30 days in prison today on income tax charges.

Federal District Judge Sylvester J. Ryan ordered that the term be served immediately.

"The sooner he serves the sentence, the better it will be for the defendant," the judge said.

Landis, who had held high positions in the federal government, pleaded guilty Aug. 2 to a five-count information charging that he failed to file "timely" income tax returns for the years 1956 through 1960.

The taxes since have been paid.

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard believes robbers who looted the Glasgow-London mail train Aug. 8 may have stayed at cheap rooming houses and that some of the $7 million haul may still be hidden in the sleazy London dwellings.

VELENJE, Yugoslavia (AP) — With Premier Khrushchev looking on from the sidelines, President Tito declared today Belgrade and Moscow are united on all major world problems.

Tito denounced Red China as undermining world communism and promoting racism and declared: "We shall fight against all those attempts. . ."

MADRID (AP)—More than 500 cheering fans greeted Argentine-born soccer star Alfredo di Stefano today on his return from Caracas, Venezuela, where he was kidnapped and held for three days by pro-Communist terrorists.

The terrorists, members of the Armed Forces for National Liberation, said they kidnapped the center-forward of Spain's Real Madrid soccer team Aug. 24 to publicize their fight against the pro-Western government of President Romulo Betancourt.

Officials Plan To Send Man Down for Look

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—A man will be lowered today down the escape hole from where miners David Fellin and Henry Throne were rescued Tuesday to see if Louis Bova is in the same cavern 308 feet underground.

H. B. Charnbury, state secretary of mines, said the decision was made after a television camera lowered into the chamber showed "what appears to be a man's body."

Charnbury, at the scene of the mine in nearby Shepperton, told a news conference "as a result of seeing the television this morning it was decided, though there was not unanimous agreement, that we think we have enough evidence for someone to go down the hole."

"The plans are in motion and someone has been chosen," he said, adding the identity of the man — "a pretty husky boy" — would be kept secret for the present.

Charnbury had visited Fellin, 58, in his room at the Hazelton State Hospital before dawn today and showed him six pictures. These were of the cubicle where the two miners had waited for 14 days until they were pulled to the surface Tuesday.

Fellin could not be reached directly for comment.

Ira Mills, state commissioner of hospitals, said "Fellin told me later 'I don't feel so good' and is definitely very confused now."

Charnbury and Mills both said that Fellin was not told about the spotting of the body or image of a man in the TV picture.

The unidentified object first was sighted early today by Dan Bova, a brother of the miner missing since the cave-in, Aug. 13.

But because the picture came from the same chamber where Fellin, 58, and Throne, 28, had been trapped 14 days before their rescue, most people — before Charnbury held his news conference—treated Dan Bova's observation with skepticism.

Both Fellin and Throne had said they did not see Louis Bova, 54, from the time of the cave-in until they were hauled to safety more than 300 feet on Tuesday.

The earlier report that a human form had been sighted said that it was in a sitting position, head

Heavy Highway Travel Slated For Weekend

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council predicted today that highway travel this weekend will be the heaviest in history for a Labor Day holiday period.

Statistics figured it will total 8.4 billion miles. The council had estimated earlier that between 430 and 520 Americans may die in traffic accidents in the period that begins at 6 p.m. today and ends at midnight Monday.

Forecasts of scattered showers indicated the weather would be bad in some areas at the start of summer's last holiday, but pleasant conditions were expected in many sections.

The current record in motor vehicle fatalities for a Labor Day weekend is 501. It was established last year.

The council reported yesterday that traffic deaths reached record highs in July, with 3,940, and in the first seven months of this year, with 22,930.

Ex-Labor Aide Named India Home Minister

NEW DELHI, Indian AP — Gulzari Lal Nanda, 65, a former labor leader known as a moderate leftist, has been named to the politically important post of Indian home minister.

The vacancy was one of six created after Prime Minister Nehru reshuffled his cabinet Saturday in an attempt to strengthen his ruling congress party.

Utah Mine Tally: 7 Alive, 18 Dead

MOAB, Utah (AP)—Five more trapped miners were rescued alive and in good condition Thursday night, but 10 others were found dead.

The final toll was 18 killed. Seven survived; two were rescued earlier.

The five found Thursday night were in surprisingly good condition in the same deep tunnel from which the other two escaped Wednesday morning, the day after 25 miners were caught 3,000 feet down by an explosion.

Eight men were already known dead when two rescue teams started a now-or-never search for the remaining 15 late in the afternoon.

Within 90 minutes, June Crawford, chief engineer of the Texas Gulf Sulphur Co., owner of the potash mine, announced emotionally: "Five survivors have been found in the east shaft. The men are walking out of that drift!"

Then up they came by the lift, grimy but smiling, in such good condition there was little need of treatment. And one of them, Grant Eslick, said, "Sure, I'm ready to go back to mining."

Three hours after the rescue, Crawford had to tell the tearful wives and parents still waiting by the mine what most of them had feared: The last 10 men in the other tunnel where the blast occurred were dead.

Amid some miners' charges that safety precautions were lax at the mine, plans were announced for a joint state-federal investigation starting Monday. A state official said: "We'll subpoena and question everyone who might have anything to say."

The last five survivors owed their lives to the first two and their own makeshift barricades that kept out deadly gases while they awaited rescue.

When Paul McKinney and Donald Hanna started out the tunnel toward safety Wednesday, they came across a ruptured air line

Bleeding severely from a scalp wound inflicted when he was struck, Clark was rushed to University Hospital, Columbus, where he was treated and released. According to the sheriff's report, 15 stitches were required to close the wound in the injured man's scalp.

THE THREE suspects being held for interrogation are James Butler, 32, Tyrone Burton, 23 and Robert Shull, 23, all of Columbus.

Butler was apprehended one mile east of Williamsport. Deputies reported he was acting suspiciously and had driven past the wrecking yard several times in his car.

A short time later Shull was picked up. He was walking along Route 22 three miles east of Williamsport.

Burton was arrested just west of Circleville near the junction of Routes 56 and 22.

All three men have previous criminal records. They are being questioned by the sheriff's department today in connection with the attack.

Heading the investigation are Sheriff Spangler and Deputies Gene Kerns and Bill Pontious.

Canada Eyes Plan For $7 Million in Red Chinese Trade

OTTAWA (AP) — A deal with Peking under which Canada will admit up to $7 million worth of internationally competitive goods from Red China annually was outlined by Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp today. Textiles are to make up the bulk of the imports.

This is part of the arrangement under which Canada recently signed a wheat agreement with China state trading organizations.

Sharp said the agreement will provide for sales of between $215 million and $360 million worth of Canadian wheat to China in the next three years.

Last year, Communist Chinese sales to Canada reached $4,520,000, including about $1.3 million in the sensitive goods covered by the new agreement. Canadian exports to Red China hit $147,430,000, almost entirely grain.

BIS Escapee Nabbed After High-Speed Chase

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—An escapee from the Boys Industrial School near here was captured by Lancaster police Thursday night after a high-speed, bullet-marked chase through red lights at four heavily-traveled intersections.

Police said Herbert L. Pig, 15, of Portage County, driving a stolen car, passed through the major intersections at speeds in excess of 70 m.p.h. His car finally was brought to a stop when police and sheriff's department vehicles ran it to the curb.

leading back to the other five. They paused to fix it, weren't able to get the ends completely together, but came close. It was enough.

Thomas Trueman of Toronto, Canada, propped himself up on one elbow in a hospital bed, turned to Hanna in the same room, and said:

"You may have got us only a little air with that patch job on the line, but boy it was enough."

Williamsport Businessman Severely Beaten

Three Suspects Held For Questioning By Sheriff's Office

Three Columbus men, suspected of severely beating Jack Clark of Williamsport, were apprehended by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department early today.

Clark, who had gone to his Williamsport auto parts yard late last night, told Pickaway County Sheriff Walton W. Spangler he saw a man crouching in the shadows as he left the area. The time was about 11:55 p.m.

As he went to investigate, he was struck from behind by a man wielding a hose filled with lead. After a brief struggle Clark managed to break loose from his assailants and get to his car. He drove to his home and notified the authorities.

Bleeding severely from a scalp wound inflicted when he was struck, Clark was rushed to University Hospital, Columbus, where he was treated and released. According to the sheriff's report, 15 stitches were required to close the wound in the injured man's scalp.

Sadist Sought As Slayer of Young Women

NEW YORK (AP)—A sadist was sought today as the slayer who butchered two career girls in their apartment.

Police apparently had no solid clues, but they leaned to the theory that the killer was the man who had made obscene and threatening telephone calls to one of the victims — Janice Wylie, pretty blonde researcher for Newsweek magazine.

Miss Wylie's father, writer Max Wylie, said he thought the caller was "maybe a crazy kid who saw a pretty pair of legs."

The bodies of Miss Wylie, 21, and Emily Hoffer, 22, were found in their $250-a-month apartment by Wylie Wednesday night.

Detectives figure the slayer, who got into the apartment by means unknown, killed Miss Wylie first; that Miss Hoffer arrived home to find the murderer still there, and was killed to eliminate her as a witness.

Miss Wylie's body was nude, Miss Hoffer's was fully clothed. The bodies were bound together with torn strips of sheets.

Wylie, brother of author Philip Wylie, said Thursday he knew of two crank phone calls to his daughter, the last one about 10 days ago, and his wife thought there were three.

No Publication On Labor Day

The Herald will not be published on Labor Day in order to allow staff members and employees to join their families in observance of the annual holiday.

Most offices and business establishments here and across the nation will close for the day. Features, comics and other columns normally published in The Herald on Monday will be carried Tuesday.

State Stores To Close

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Liquor Director Donald D. Cook announced today that all state liquor stores and agencies will be closed Monday in observance of Labor Day. Department offices also will be closed.

Search Pressed For Jettankers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—More than 50 planes and ships were pressed into the search today for the 11 men missing aboard two stratotankers that might have gone into the Atlantic about half-way between Bermuda and Nassau.

A spokesman for the Air Rescue Service Center at Orlando, Fla., said "If those men are out there, we want to find them."

Coast Guard headquarters in New York, in charge of the overall rescue operation, said that the cutter Owasco had picked up a number of items normally carried by planes about 335 miles southwest of Bermuda.

The guard said the items, which included navigation charts, pieces of plywood and various rubber products, all had Air Force markings.

Debris indicated the planes might have plunged into the Atlantic about 750 miles east-northeast of Miami. It was located in an oil slick and airplane panels were found in the area.

The Air Force refused to comment on the possibility of a collision.

The key items were three life rafts, identified as the kind the four-engine KC135s would have carried. Each plane would have had only two aboard, the Air Rescue Service said. The rafts were found within 60 miles of each other.

A helmet stenciled "Gardner" was so found in the same area. Capt. Gerald Gardner of Lincoln, Neb., was aboard one of the planes.

The stratotankers were returning to Homestead Air Force Base, south of Miami, where they were stationed with the 19th Bomb Wing Wednesday when they lost radio contact about noon.

Of the original 59, one died in Cuba, three remained there, one returned earlier to Boston, and four decided to stay in Madrid a bit longer.

Concerning the invalidation of their passports, Clark Foreman, director of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, said the courts would have to decide whether such a procedure was legal.

A ROUTE 4 resident brought a huge puffball mushroom into The Herald office this week. . . .

Bob Weaver, who found the specimen near his home, said it weighed 8½ pounds. . . . He noted that many people consider puffballs quite palatable.

Final Apple Prices Given Processors

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Final offering prices to apple processors in an eight-state area were announced Thursday by George Downes, acting chairman of the Apple Division, Ohio Agricultural Marketing Association.

He said prices for Ohio apples used in processing will be $3.75 per 100 pounds for U.S. No. 1 premium canners, 2½ inches and up, for the varieties of Stayman, Jonathan and Northern Spies. All other U.S. No. 1 canners, 2½ inches or more, will sell for $3.50 per 100 pounds, while juice apples will sell for $1.75, he said.

Apples will be available to processors at these prices until Sept. 4, after which they will be offered elsewhere, Downes said.

Utah Mine Tally: 7 Alive, 18 Dead

MOAB, Utah (AP)—Five more trapped miners were rescued alive and in good condition Thursday night, but 10 others were found dead.

The final toll was 18 killed. Seven survived; two were rescued earlier.

The five found Thursday night were in surprisingly good condition in the same deep tunnel from which the other two escaped Wednesday morning, the day after 25 miners were caught 3,000 feet down by an explosion.

Eight men were already known dead when two rescue teams started a now-or-never search for the remaining 15 late in the afternoon.

Within 90 minutes, June Crawford, chief engineer of the Texas Gulf Sulphur Co., owner of the potash mine, announced emotionally: "Five survivors have been found in the east shaft. The men are walking out of that drift!"

Then up they came by the lift, grimy but smiling, in such good condition there was little need of treatment. And one of them, Grant Eslick, said, "Sure, I'm ready to go back to mining."

Three hours after the rescue, Crawford had to tell the tearful wives and parents still waiting by the mine what most of them had feared: The last 10 men in the other tunnel where the blast occurred were dead.

Amid some miners' charges that safety precautions were lax at the mine, plans were announced for a joint state-federal investigation starting Monday. A state official said: "We'll subpoena and question everyone who might have anything to say."

The last five survivors owed their lives to the first two and their own makeshift barricades that kept out deadly gases while they awaited rescue.

When Paul McKinney and Donald Hanna started out the tunnel toward safety Wednesday, they came across a ruptured air line leading back to the other five. They paused to fix it, weren't able to get the ends completely together, but came close. It was enough.

Thomas Trueman of Toronto, Canada, propped himself up on one elbow in a hospital bed, turned to Hanna in the same room, and said:

"You may have got us only a little air with that patch job on the line, but boy it was enough."

Williamsport Businessman Severely Beaten

Three suspects held for questioning by Sheriff's Office

Three Columbus men, suspected of severely beating Jack Clark of Williamsport, were apprehended by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department early today.

Clark, who had gone to his Williamsport auto parts yard late last night, told Pickaway County Sheriff Walton W. Spangler he saw a man crouching in the shadows as he left the area.

The time was about 11:55 p.m. As he went to investigate, he was struck from behind by a man wielding a hose filled with lead. After a brief struggle Clark managed to break loose from his assailants and get to his car. He drove to his home and notified the authorities.

Bleeding severely from a scalp wound inflicted when he was struck, Clark was rushed to University Hospital, Columbus, where he was treated and released. According to the sheriff's report, 15 stitches were required to close the wound in the injured man's scalp.

THE THREE suspects being held for interrogation are James Butler, 32, Tyrone Burton, 23 and Robert Shull, 23, all of Columbus.

Butler was apprehended one mile east of Williamsport. Deputies reported he was acting suspiciously and had driven past the wrecking yard several times in his car.

A short time later Shull was picked up. He was walking along Route 22 three miles east of Williamsport.

Burton was arrested just west of Circleville near the junction of Routes 56 and 22.

All three men have previous criminal records. They are being questioned by the sheriff's department today in connection with the attack.

Heading the investigation are Sheriff Spangler and Deputies Gene Kerns and Bill Pontious.

Canada Eyes Plan For $7 Million in Red Chinese Trade

OTTAWA (AP)—A deal with Peking under which Canada will admit up to $7 million worth of internationally competitive goods from Red China annually was outlined by Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp today. Textiles are to make up the bulk of the imports.

This is part of the arrangement under which Canada recently signed a wheat agreement with China state trading organizations.

Sharp said the agreement will provide for sales of between $215 million and $360 million worth of Canadian wheat to China in the next three years.

Last year, Communist Chinese sales to Canada reached $4,520,000, including about $1.3 million in the sensitive goods covered by the new agreement. Canadian exports to Red China hit $147,430,000, almost entirely grain.

Mysterious 'Body' Seen In Mine Rescue Chamber

"SHOULD HAVE BEEN OUT BY FIFTH DAY" — Rescued from a coal mine cave-in at Shepton, Pa., with his companion, Henry Thorne, miner David Fellin is wheeled out of his hospital room in Hazleton for the first time, en route to a news conference. He told newsmen, "I should have been out by the fifth day (he was entombed 15 days)." He said rescue workers should have dug through the mine's blocked passageway instead of drilling an escape shaft from surface.

News of World in Brief

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Traffic was in a pickle this morning on Reynolds Road near Dorr Street. As a truck went around a curve, 90 crates of pickles slid off. Traffic was tied up for about two hours while the estimated 10,000 pickles were cleared from the roadway.

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Some 1,125 employees of the D.W.G. Cigar Corp. plant here walked off their jobs in a wildcat strike today.

The dispute apparently involves the company's refusal to permit Teamsters Union representatives to enter the plant to notify the workers that the Teamsters have been certified by the National Labor Relations Board as their bargaining agent.

A company spokesman said notification would be posted on bulletin boards throughout the plant.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Carl L. Mosley Jr., 37, of Columbus today was named administrative assistant to Ohio Wildlife Division Chief Dale E. Whitesell.

Mosley is a native of Barborton and a graduate of Ohio State University.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There have been so many clerical errors in data forwarded to the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation's central office that verification is necessary before figures are released to press, radio and television, Administrator Willard P. Dudley says.

An administrative letter sent to local office managers, department heads and directors, asking them to make sure statistical information released in the field is verified, was not intended to close any doors to reporters, Dudley told Gov. James A. Rhodes.

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A threatened strike at Monarch Rubber Co. in Hartsville has been averted with ratification by the United Rubber Workers Union of a new 12-cent package over two years.

A URW spokesman said 750 of 800 members of Local 99 turned out Thursday night to approve the two-year pact that runs to Aug. 31, 1965. It provides for an immediate six-cent hourly across-the-board wage increase and another six-cent hike at the start of the second year of the contract, plus improvements in working conditions.

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Five Negro students were enrolled without incident today at three previously all-white Charleston public schools in South Carolina's first school integration below the college level.

Public school integration came a day after the Roman Catholic Church opened its eight white elementary schools here to Negroes. Calm prevailed as 15 of 202 eligible Negroes chose to attend integrated classes.

NEW YORK (AP)—Veronica Lake, who became a movie sensation in the 1940s with her peeka-booo hairdo then faded into obscurity, returned to acting Thursday night.

"I was scared silly," said Miss Lake after the performance, her debut on the New York stage.

"But it was great. Damn, it's great to be back."

When she came on stage midway in the first act of "Best Foot Forward" at the off-Broadway Stage 73 Theater, applause stopped the action momentarily.

NEW YORK (AP)—James M. Landis, former dean of the Harvard Law School, was sentenced to 30 days in prison today on income tax charges.

Federal District Judge Sylvester J. Ryan ordered that the term be served immediately.

"The sooner he serves the sentence, the better it will be for the defendant," the judge said.

Landis, who had held high positions in the federal government, pleaded guilty Aug. 2 to a five-count information charging that he failed to file "timely" income tax returns for the years 1956 through 1960.

The taxes since have been paid.

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard believes robbers who looted the Glasgow-London mail train Aug. 8 may have stayed at cheap rooming houses and that some of the $7 million haul may still be hidden in the sleazy London dwellings.

VELENJE, Yugoslavia (AP)—With Premier Khrushchev looking on from the sidelines, President Tito declared today Belgrade and Moscow are united on all major world problems.

Tito denounced Red China as undermining world communism and promoting racism and declared: "We shall fight against all those attempts. . ."

MADRID (AP)—More than 500 cheering fans greeted Argentine-born soccer star Alfredo di Stefano today on his return from Caracas, Venezuela, where he was kidnapped and held for three days by pro-Communist terrorists.

The terrorists, members of the Armed Forces for National Liberation, said they kidnapped the center-forward of Spain's Real Madrid soccer team Aug. 24 to publicize their fight against the pro-Western government of President Romulo Betancourt.

Ex-Labor Aide Named India Home Minister

NEW DELHI, Indian AP)—Gulzari Lal Nanda, 65, a former labor leader known as a moderate leftist, has been named to the politically important post of Indian home minister.

The vacancy was one of six created after Prime Minister Nehru reshuffled his cabinet Saturday in an attempt to strengthen his ruling congress party.

Officials Plan To Send Man Down for Look

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—A man will be lowered today down the escape hole from where miners David Fellin and Henry Thorne were rescued Tuesday to see if Louis Bova is in the same cavern 308 feet underground.

H. B. Charnbury, state secretary of mines, said the decision was made after a television camera lowered into the chamber showed "what appears to be a man's body."

Charnbury, at the scene of the mine in nearby Shepton, told a news conference "as a result of seeing the television this morning it was decided, though there was not unanimous agreement, that we think we have enough evidence for someone to go down the hole."

"The plans are in motion and someone has been chosen," he said, adding the identity of the man — "a pretty husky boy" — would be kept secret for the present.

Charnbury had visited Fellin, 58, in his room at the Hazleton State Hospital before dawn today and showed him six pictures. These were of the cubicle where the two miners had waited for 14 days until they were pulled to the surface Tuesday.

Fellin could not be reached directly for comment.

Ira Mills, state commissioner of hospitals, said "Fellin told me later 'I don't feel so good' and is definitely very confused now."

Charnbury and Mills both said that Fellin was not told about the spotting of the body or image of a man in the TV picture.

The unidentified object first was sighted early today by Dan Bova a brother of the miner missing since the cave-in, Aug. 13.

But because the picture came from the same chamber where Fellin, 58, and Thorne, 28, had been trapped 14 days before their rescue, most people — before Charnbury held his news conference — treated Dan Bova's observation with skepticism.

Both Fellin and Thorne had said they did not see Louis Bova, 54, from the time of the cave-in until they were hauled to safety more than 300 feet on Tuesday.

The earlier report that a human form had been sighted said that it was in a sitting position, head

Heavy Highway Travel Slated For Weekend

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council predicted today that highway travel this weekend will be the heaviest in history for a Labor Day holiday period.

Statisticians figured it will total 8.4 billion miles. The council had estimated earlier that between 430 and 520 Americans may die in traffic accidents in the period that begins at 6 p.m. today and ends at midnight Monday.

Forecasts of scattered showers indicated the weather would be bad in some areas at the start of summer's last holiday, but pleasant conditions were expected in many sections.

The current record in motor vehicle fatalities for a Labor Day weekend is 501. It was established last year.

The council reported yesterday that traffic deaths reached record highs in July, with 3,940, and in the first seven months of this year, with 22,930.

BIS Escapee Nabbed After High-Speed Chase

bent over drawn up knees.

Fellin and Throne were in total darkness in the chamber for five days before a six-inch lifeline hole was drilled to them and they were given light.

Both have insisted since rescue that Bova was alive, trapped some distance away from where they were and separated by a wall of coal and debris.

The TV camera had sent back pictures of remarkable clarity. As Charnbury described it, the TV picture appeared to show a man propped up against a wooden mine support.

Charnbury said that what appeared to be a miner's helmet was on the head and there seemed to be a pair of boots "with legs in them."

"I couldn't believe what I saw," Charnbury said. "I was shocked."

Union, Rails Name Aides in Arbitration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two union representatives were named today to serve on a seven-member arbitration panel in the railroad work rules dispute.

They are H. E. Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, and R. H. McDonald, vice president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The carriers announced Thursday their representatives on the panel will be J. E. Wolfe, their chief negotiator, and Guy W. Knight, vice president in charge of labor relations for the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Provision for the seven-member arbitration board composed of two railroad members, two chosen by the five operating unions, and three neutral members was included in legislation signed Wednesday by President Kennedy to halt a threatened nationwide strike.

A union spokesman said the four panelists will meet Wednesday to discuss their choices for the three neutral arbitrators to complete the panel.

Under terms of the new act, the arbitration board will work out a binding solution to the use of firemen on diesel freight engines and the issue of makeup of train crews. Other issues in the tangled dispute would be left to negotiation by the two sides.

Cincinnati Is Held In Counterfeit Case

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Bond of $25,000 has been set for Paul V. Lacinak, alias Lowder, 36, charged with possession of counterfeit $10 bills at Columbus, Ohio. Lacinak, a native of Cincinnati, was returned to Kansas City Thursday to be formally arraigned when papers arrive from Ohio.

Legendary News Photographer Is Hailed by JFK, Ike, HST

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Henry Griffin, an Associated Press photographer, went to the hospital, his old friends wanted to cheer him.

So he got phone calls from President Kennedy and former Presidents Eisenhower and Truman. Kennedy also wrote a letter, as did Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and scores of senators and representatives.

At 47, Griffin is a legend, and as friendly, as unabashed, as noisy, as cheerfully democratic as a pack of Airedale puppies.

The hundreds who know him, with his loud, husky voice and his loud bawling laugh, were shocked at the diagnosis: Cancer of the throat. And there's relief that although his voice box has been removed, he is getting along nicely.

"I just wanted you to know," Kennedy wrote. "That we will be thinking of you," and at the bottom he scrawled in his own hand, "Best of Luck."

Offhand, Griffin doesn't appear like the type the world's great cotton to. He got through a year of high school, but all that education didn't corrupt the primitive man. His talk remained puny, and on him, it sounded natural.

On Jan. 2, 1933, he joined the AP in his native Baltimore, and soon showed the stuff required for the rough life of a spot news photographer.

A year later, he came to Washington. Then, the war: North Africa, Italy, France, Germany, Poland. In December, 1945, he was back home.

Legends become impossible to unravel. It certainly was true that he once almost knocked Eisenhower out.

This came on Nov. 4, 1952, at the end of Ike's presidential campaign. The general was posing for pictures in Boston, and Griffin was trying to move a clock that messed up the shot. But it slipped, and down it went on Eisenhower's bald head.

For once Griffin was mortified. He fled—and returned only after Eisenhower, his wound swelling but not serious, insisted he come back.

It's also true he fell for Truman. Griffin was on a press plane accompanying Truman to Kansas City. The ramp was pushed up to the door, and then unaccountably removed. Griffin, always in a hurry, fell 12 feet to the concrete below.

He fractured six ribs, one of which pierced a lung.

Truman sent his own physician, Gen. Wallace Graham, along to make sure Griffin got the best of care.

Well, it seems strange to find noisy, brash Griffin silenced, forced to learn to speak again and now reduced to tapping out replies over the phone, two taps for yes, one for no.

But his friends, great and lowly, will be pleased to know the tap-tap sounded jaunty, like a man who soon will be ready for anything.

Kennedy Files New Appeal For Restoration of Aid Fund

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — President Kennedy appealed today for restoration of foreign aid funds slashed by the House, saying "freedom does not come easily or cheaply" and the full program is needed at a time of "very intense" peaceful coexistence.

Standing with Kennedy at an impromptu press conference, Gen. Lucius Clay said that in slicing $600 million from the aid authorization bill, the House has "gone too far and seriously endangered the program."

Clay, chairman of a committee that recommended gradual reduction tion of aid programs earlier this year, said he was particularly disturbed about reductions in funds for military assistance and the Alliance For Progress.

The Alliance For Progress involves aid for Latin America.

Kennedy said "it is important that the American people understand that this affects security and the balance of power all over the world."

He argued that if Congress does not restore the money, "This means the United States will not fulfill its obligations of the Alliance For Progress—it would limit very much our ability to influence events."

Asked if he wanted the full $4.5 billion he asked originally, Kennedy said he wants to get as much of that amount as he can but recognizes some reductions are inevitable.

Kennedy at first planned to seek $4.9 billion for aid but voluntarily lopped $400 million from that amount after the Clay committee recommended a cutback. The House then cut the total to $3.5 billion.

Kennedy, Clay, Aid Director David E. Bell and presidential assistant Ralph Dungan conferred for more than an hour at Kennedy's seaside summer home here.

2 State Functions Will Close Monday

Two state functions here will be closed Monday in observance of Labor Day.

Due for closing are the State Liquor Store on E. Franklin St. and the Unemployment Compensation Claims office at the Memorial Hall.

All state liquor stores and agencies will be closed for the day. All applicants for new and continued unemployment claims are requested to report to the Memorial Hall office on Wednesday at regularly scheduled times. On subsequent weeks claimants will report on the regular day — Monday.

Alabama Governor To Enter Ohio Poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama says he has been receiving heavy support mail from Ohioans and plans to enter the Ohio Democratic primary for president next May.

Wallace attained national prominence several months ago when he attempted to block the admission of Negro students James Hood and Vivian Malone to the University of Alabama.

The governor told a Columbus radio station Thursday he was entering Ohio's May 5 primary because of "the heavy volume of mail I have been receiving from Ohio supporting my stand on civil rights."

Orient Man Is Bound To County Grand Jury

Curtis Palmer, Orient, arrested by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, was bound to the next session of the grand jury by Circleville Municipal Court Judge Sterling M. Lamb.

Palmer was charged with damaging an automobile belonging to a doctor parked at the Orient State Institute. Bond was set at $500.

Stock Market Is Cautious

NEW YORK (AP) — Airlines were a bright spot in a mixed stock market today as Wall Street displayed typical caution prior to the long Labor Day weekend.

Trading was moderately active. Stock markets will be closed on Monday for the holiday and many Wall Streeters had already started off for their last bit of summer fun.

Gains and losses of most key stocks were from fractions to about a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 278.9 with industrials off 2, rails unchanged and utilities up 1.

Among the airlines, gains of close to a point were posted for Eastern, TWA and National. Pan American, United and American added fractions. Continental Air Lines rose 1/4 to 13 1/2 on 8,300 shares.

Tires, Wheels Taken From Local Garage

The theft of two tires and wheels was reported to city police yesterday by Carl Riffle, 717 Maplewood Ave.

Riffle said the equipment, taken from his garage, was valued at $80. Also reported missing were 100 pounds of brass fittings, valued at $21.

Entry was made through a west door of the garage. Riffle said the theft occurred since Aug. 20 when he last saw the articles in the garage.

3 Motorists Sentenced on OMVI Counts

Circleville Municipal Court's traffic docket today listed three motorists found guilty of operating motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicants.

Arrested by the State Highway Patrol were Jack Wheeler, 20, Hilliard; John Dempsey, 39, Columbus; and Robert Donohue, 39, Portsmouth.

Wheeler was fined $150 and costs by Judge Sterling M. Lamb, sentenced to three days in the county jail and had his operator's license suspended for six months.

Dempsey, who had a record of a previous conviction for the same offense, was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his operator's license suspended for one year.

Speeding 80 miles per hour when apprehended by the OSP, Donohue was fined $175 and costs, handed a three-day jail sentence and had his license suspended for six months.

Many Discouragements Hit U.S. Evangelism Abroad

TOKYO (AP)—There was death in Viet Nam's jungles, political intrigue in Saigon. There was discontent in dusty Seoul: economic crisis and international wheeling and dealing in a host of other places.

The fighting, squabbling and hunger were far from America's shores but the United States was up to its neck in all of it.

After 18 years of bloody, expensive American involvement in the Far East, there were as many crises as ever and the United States was receiving as many hot-potato questions as ever before.

The American creed, spread with missionary-like zeal, was democracy, anti-communism and economic stability — hopefully all three at the same time.

The cost of evangelism was high.

In Viet Nam the cost stood at $1.5 million a day and 96 American lives so far. No end was in sight.

It is almost impossible to calculate the total cost of America's attempt to guide the destinies of millions of the Far East since World War II.

You could add the 96 Americans killed in Viet Nam to the 20,617 who died in the 1950-53 Korean War. But that overlooks those who died unsung—Special Forces men lost in combat in places like Laos and pilots who disappeared in the Japan Sea on training flights.

Accountants of the Agency for International Development are more specific in adding up the dollar cost: $13.7 billion for economic aid and $8.1 billion for military aid in the Far East from July 1, 1945 to June 30, 1962.

Surveying the results, an AID man in Tokyo said: "It's a discouraging business we're in."

There was no mistaking that the "discouraging business" was America's baby. Asia's resurgent power, Japan, wanted to avoid entanglement and continue making money. The French were long gone from Viet Nam, the Dutch a memory in Indonesia, the British almost impotent in areas they once ruled with dash and vigor.

All were onlookers and their attitude may have been summed up in Tokyo by a French newspaperman who whirled on his American listeners and heatedly declared:

"You wanted to replace us in Indochina and you did. Well, let's see you do better."

One thing seemed clear: But for America's involvement, the Soviets' hammer and sickle on Red China's five yellow stars on a field of red would be in many places where they are not.

"I couldn't believe what I saw," Charnbury said. "I was shocked."

Union, Rails Name Aides in Arbitration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two union representatives were named today to serve on a seven-member arbitration panel in the railroad work rules dispute.
They are H. E. Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, and R. H. McDonald, vice president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.
The carriers announced Thursday their representatives on the panel will be J. E. Wolfe, their chief negotiator, and Guy W. Knight, vice president in charge of labor relations for the Pennsylvania Railroad.
Provision for the seven-member arbitration board composed of two railroad members, two chosen by the five operating unions, and three neutral members was included in legislation signed Wednesday by President Kennedy to halt a threatened nationwide strike.
A union spokesman said the four panelists will meet Wednesday to discuss their choices for the three neutral arbitrators to complete the panel.
Under terms of the new act, the arbitration board will work out a binding solution to the use of firemen on diesel freight engines and the issue of makeup of train crews. Other issues in the tangled dispute would be left to negotiation by the two sides.

OSU Cage Coach Speaks at Rotary

OSU CAGE MENTOR — Guest speaker a yesterday's Rotary meeting was Fred Taylor, head basketball coach at Ohio State University for the past five years. Taylor gave a brief preview of the Buckeye cage team for the coming season.

Fred Taylor, Ohio State University Basketball coach, gave Circleville Rotarians an early summary of this year's edition of the Buckeye cage squad yesterday.

The personable OSU mentor was guest speaker at the noon meeting of the group in the basement of the Circleville BPO Elks Lodge.

Cleveland Ford Aides To Get Pay Increases

CLEVELAND (AP)—Some 12,970 Ford Motor Co. employees in greater Cleveland will receive pay increases totaling $1,484,000 for the next 12 months under the company's annual improvement factor pay increase effective Sept. 1.

Also affected will be some 4,800 Ford employees in Lorain and 1,400 in Canton.

The increase amounts to six cents an hour or 2.5 per cent of base wage rate, whichever is greater, for hourly employees. Eligible salaried employees will receive 1.5 per cent of their base wage rate or $6.30 monthly, whichever is greater.

LANCASTER Firemen Battle Barn Blaze

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Vacationing firemen were called back to duty late Thursday when fire threatened a 10,000-gallon asphalt storage tank. The blaze destroyed a county storage barn on the Fairfield County Fairgrounds which housed bridge equipment, including several vehicles. There was no estimate of damage.

Citing the fact he had only two regulars returning from last year's team, Taylor told Rotary Club members and their guests the Buckeyes' chances of grabbing the Big Ten title this year appeared dim right now.

With veteran forwards Jim Doughty and Doug McDonald out of the line up this year, Taylor pointed out that senior center Gary Bradds would have a much tougher time this year.

DICK RICKETTS, the only other letterman who has seen much action, could be one of the better guards in the Big 10, according to Taylor.

Promising sophomores who may see a great deal of action are Albert Peters from New Lebanon and Robert Dove from Canfield.

Peters, 6-feet-4, will see initial action at a guard slot while Dove 6-6 will get the call at a forward post.

Guests at the Rotary meeting included Circleville High School basketball coach Paul Reiss, several members of the CHS basketball team and young sons of Rotarians.

Named as the Big 10 team with the best prospects for the season was the University of Michigan. Taylor pointed out the Wolverines have had experienced players returning, with the added advantage of picking from probably the best freshman team in the conference last year.

He also tapped Northwestern as a contender.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has a tendency to political amnesia when his Democrats join Republicans to do him in. He finds it easier to remember what the Republicans did.

He said once Republicans have made "no" a political program, but so have a lot of his Democrats.

The country has in effect three political parties — Democrats, Southern Democrats, and Republicans — just because the Southerners have gone against him so many times.

They operate under the Democratic label but can make the Democratic party's campaign promises look like balloons in a tack factory any time it suits them, which is often, to clasp hands with Republicans.

Two recent examples:

1. Southern Democrats, against Kennedy's civil rights program from the start, are expected to try to filibuster it to death.
2. Just last week they harpooned him when the House voted to cut foreign aid $585 million below what he asked.

Kennedy that same afternoon rushed to denounce the Republicans for the blow. But they could not have done it if a big bunch of Democrats hadn't joined them.

The Democrats have such a majority over the Republicans in both houses of Congress they could put through any program Kennedy wanted — provided they stuck together — even if all the Republicans voted no. They don't stick together.

In the 435-seat House, with three vacancies, Democrats outnumber Republicans 256-176. In the 100-seat Senate the lineup is 67 Democrats, 33 Republicans. On foreign aid in the House this was how the voting went:

Against the cut: 188 (172 Democrats, 16 Republicans); for the cut: 222 (66 Democrats, 156 Republicans). If only 18 of those 66 Democrats had stuck with Kennedy the vote would have been 204 for the cut but 206 against. The over-all aid bill then went to the Senate on a final 224-186 vote.

There would have been no cut. All but three of the 66 Democrats lining up with the Republicans were from Southern or border states. This defection of the South has haunted Kennedy. There was a shining example of it last year.

That was when the Senate, with Democrats outnumbering Republicans 64-36, killed Kennedy's program of medical care for the aged. That majority of 28 could have swamped the Republicans on any issue.

But this happened on Medicare: The vote to kill was 52-48, with 21 Democrats and 31 Republicans doing the killing. All but 4 of the 21 Democrats were Southerners. If just 3 of the 21 had stayed with their party the bill would have carried.

Kennedy made this a campaign issue in the 1962 elections, blaming "nearly all the Republicans and a handful of Democrats" who joined them for his defeat. It was

Hamilton Mayor Quits

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Robert E. Westfall of Hamilton has announced he will not seek re-election in November. Westfall, who took over as mayor in January 1962, said Thursday he could not devote enough time to the job.

more than a handful. It was almost a third of all the Senate Democrats.

Not long before the medicare defeat Kennedy made an admission at a news conference which pretty frankly acknowledged the Democratic party is not the single party it pretends to be:

"We should realize that some Democrats have voted with the Republicans for a good 25 years, really since 1938. So we have a very difficult time on a controversial piece of legislation in securing a working majority."

Came the elections. They didn't change much. The Democrats retained just about the same huge majorities, although Kennedy had asked for even bigger ones. He repeatedly admitted any time he offered a controversial bill he'll win or lose by three or four votes.

Still, Kennedy won't fight with Congress. He never has. He just complains occasionally, particularly about the Republicans. He said: "There is no sense in raising hell and then not being successful."

This week, after his complaint about the Republicans' part in cutting foreign aid, Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona cited some of Kennedy's own record on foreign aid when he was a Democratic senator.

He listed four occasions between 1953 and 1958 when Kennedy voted for foreign aid cuts in President Eisenhower's program.

"HOT LINE" NEARLY READY—Scheduled to be in operation by the end of the month, equipment for the emergency communications line that will link Moscow and Washington, D.C., is moved into the Joint Chiefs of Staff office. The "hot line" is expected to reduce the risk of accidental war.

Anti-Red Goods Law Ruled Legal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A municipal court judge has ruled that Columbus' ordinance governing the sale of goods made in communist countries is constitutional.

But Judge Clifford E. Rader found a merchant innocent of a charge of violating the ordinance.

Russell Klingler was arrested last May on a charge of selling communist-made goods in his variety store without posting a sign and without having a license to sell them.

Judge Rader said Wednesday

that evidence indicates that Klingler had made an honest effort to remove communist-made goods from among the thousands of items he had on sale.

Cleveland Ford Aides To Get Pay Increases

CLEVELAND (AP)—Some 12,970 Ford Motor Co. employees in greater Cleveland will receive pay increases totaling $1,484,000 for the next 12 months under the company's annual improvement factor pay increase effective Sept. 1.

Also affected will be some 4,800 Ford employees in Lorain and 1,400 in Canton.

The increase amounts to six cents an hour or 2.5 per cent of base wage rate, whichever is greater, for hourly employees. Eligible salaried employees will receive 1.5 per cent of their base wage rate or $6.30 monthly, whichever is greater.

Lancaster Firemen Battle Barn Blaze

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Vacationing firemen were called back to duty late Thursday when fire threatened a 10,000-gallon asphalt storage tank. The blaze destroyed a county storage barn on the Fairfield County Fairgrounds which housed bridge equipment, including several vehicles. There was no estimate of damage.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has a tendency to political amnesia when his Democrats join Republicans to do him in. He finds it easier to remember what the Republicans did.

He said once Republicans have made "no" a political program, but so have a lot of his Democrats.

The country has in effect three political parties — Democrats, Southern Democrats, and Republicans — just because the Southerners have gone against him so many times.

They operate under the Democratic label but can make the Democratic party's campaign promises look like balloons in a tack factory any time it suits them, which is often, to clasp hands with Republicans.

Two recent examples:

1. Southern Democrats, against Kennedy's civil rights program from the start, are expected to try to filibuster it to death.

2. Just last week they harpooned him when the House voted to cut foreign aid $585 million below what he asked.

Kennedy that same afternoon rushed to denounce the Republicans for the blow. But they could not have done it if a big bunch of Democrats hadn't joined them.

The Democrats have such a majority over the Republicans in both houses of Congress they could put through any program Kennedy wanted — provided they stuck together — even if all the Republicans voted no. They don't stick together.

In the 435-seat House, with three vacancies, Democrats outnumber Republicans 256-176. In the 100-seat Senate the lineup is 67 Democrats, 33 Republicans. On foreign aid in the House this was how the voting went:

Against the cut: 188 (172 Democrats, 16 Republicans); for the cut: 222 (66 Democrats, 156 Republicans). If only 18 of those 66 Democrats had stuck with Kennedy the vote would have been 204 for the cut but 208 against. The over-all aid bill then went to the Senate on a final 224-186 vote.

There would have been no cut. All but three of the 66 Democrats lining up with the Republicans were from Southern or border states. This defection of the South has haunted Kennedy. There was a shining example of it last year.

That was when the Senate, with Democrats outnumbering Republicans 64-36, killed Kennedy's program of medical care for the aged. That majority of 28 could have swamped the Republicans on any issue.

But this happened on Medicare. The vote to kill was 52-48, with 21 Democrats and 31 Republicans doing the killing. All but 4 of the 21 Democrats were Southerners. If just 3 of the 21 had stayed with their party the bill would have carried.

Kennedy made this a campaign issue in the 1962 elections, blaming "nearly all the Republicans and a handful of Democrats" who joined them for his defeat. It was repeatedly admitted any time he offers a controversial bill he'll win or lose by three or four votes.

Still, Kennedy won't fight with Congress. He never has. He just complains occasionally, particularly about the Republicans. He said: "There is no sense in raising hell and then not being successful."

This week, after his complaint about the Republicans' part in cutting foreign aid, Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona cited some of Kennedy's own record on foreign aid when he was a Democratic senator.

He listed four occasions between 1953 and 1958 when Kennedy voted for foreign aid cuts in President Eisenhower's program.

Anti-Red Goods Law Ruled Legal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A municipal court judge has ruled that Columbus' ordinance governing the sale of goods made in communist countries is constitutional.

Judge Rader said Wednesday

Tariff Hassle

Downgraded by the chicken war between the United States and the Common Market is another international trade controversy to which the U. S. is a party and which threatens to create even greater trade difficulties for Uncle Sam.

Now that the six-member Common Market has slammed the door on discussions over its tariff boosts on American poultry perhaps Washington and U. S. industry can direct more attention to the cotton crisis developing in Japan.

For seven months, American - Japanese negotiators have been squabbling over a U. S. proposal to cut Japan's textile export quota to the U. S., and make certain tariff adjustments. The move is designed to help domestic textile mills suffering from import competition.

Japanese negotiators are extremely unhappy over the proposals, which they call "an act of perfidy" to a nation with close control over its exports. Most of the argument to date has centered on definitions of clothing and other textile products.

At stake is more than the question of imported finished Japanese cotton goods.

The Japanese are also the largest cotton fiber customer of the U. S., and they threaten to buy cotton elsewhere. Cotton exports happen to be one of this country's prime trade commodities.

Lurking in the background of the dispute is the government's cotton subsidy, which results in higher prices for cotton fiber. Fiber costs are partly to blame for the textile industry's inability to compete with Japanese manufacturers in a free market.

There is an inconsistency in the United States arguing against protectionism by the Common Market and strengthening its own protective wall against Japanese textile manufacturers. But international trade agreements are brought about on a compromise give-and-take basis instead of on a trade principle.

In the case of the textile controversy, part of the give might have to be in the U. S. cotton subsidy. A loss of the Japanese market for U. S. cotton could prove much more costly than the $50 million a year blow American poultry farmers received.

House Painter — A Free Soul

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — If fortune ever favors me with a rebirth, I've decided to come back to earth as a painter.

Not as a Rembrandt or a Da Vinci.

Not even as a Picasso or a Dali. Just as a house painter—a plain ordinary house painter.

In a world of chafing conformity, the house painter is about the freest soul I know. He bows to no man's bidding, and yields to no woman's whim or will.

It is probably their ability to defeat a woman on her own battlefield — her home — that most makes me admire painters. You have to take off your hat to a guy who can do that.

We have had our apartment painted a number of times in the 25 years we have been married—just about as many times as my wife has been able to face up to the chaos it causes.

Each time it has been a battle of wits between my wife and the painters as to who would have their way. Each time the painters win—hands down.

It works out like this:

To begin with, the painters won't even come to your apartment until you've got it in perfect disorder. The rugs have to be removed, the furniture stacked in piles.

Tactfully, your wife makes them coffee and sandwiches, even runs to the supermarket to get them some luncheon beer. They take these offerings with the sullen air of gods accepting unsatisfactory tribute.

"It would be nice if you'd do the bedroom first," the wife then suggests.

The painters exchange looks. One silently heads for the living room, the other for the kitchen. The bedroom will be done last. "That isn't quite the shade of blue I chose," the wife tells the man in the kitchen.

"That's the color in the bucket," says the painter, slapping another brush of it on the wall with the bold stroke of a born sadist.

Slap...slap...slap! The painters go on brushing, paying no more attention to the housewife than if she were a buzzing housefly.

When the job is done a truce is declared. Husband and wife pour drinks, and all shake hands. "I'll say one thing, lady," says one painter. "You sure got good taste. This the prettiest apartment we painted all year. Eh, Joe?"

"Why not?" replies the second painter, pouring himself a second drink.

After they have gone, the wife looks around the kitchen critically and says:

"They did do a nice job, and I do like this color blue. I guess they weren't such bad fellows after all."

How do painters get away with it? What do they know about handling women the rest of us male mice don't?

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—Compulsory arbitration of the rail labor dispute adds still another challenge to a year of change in labor-management issues and solutions.

Sabbaticals for long-time em-tim employees, bonuses as compensation for automation, continuous negotiations to minimize strike threats, stress on fringe benefits rather than pay boosts, charges of racial bias by some unions and lack of equal job opportunities, and an increased emphasis on the public interest in labor disputes—all seem to be chiseling out a new look in labor-management relations.

Congress has ordered compulsory arbitration for the first time in a peace year. It has put off—at least for six months—the threat of a strike that would idle the nation's railroads.

The chief issue was over what management calls feather bedding — union-protected jobs that the companies say are no longer needed. This issue is debated in a number of other industries.

The issue is a variant of the chief concern in this year's labor talks. The unions primarily are worried over job security — the loss of jobs to machines of new work techniques, or to the changing consumer demand to different products or services. Management is equally concerned over cutting costs or getting into new lines that consumers now fancy.

The steel industry furnished clues to the new trend in three ways this year. First, Kaiser Steel is paying bonuses to workers, their share of savings made through automation. Second, the industry adopted a long-vacation plan that gives workers with seniority extended time-off every few years. And third, the industry licked the strike threat pressure on contract negotiations — this year at least — by setting up a continuously negotiating committee to tackle labor problems as they arise and hammer out a contract ahead of a fixed deadline.

The electrical industry also has had study committees at work well ahead of contract terminations. Now the talks are coming out into the open. Longer vacations and more retirement pay are among the proposals.

Overtime and moonlighting also are coming to the front as issues because of this year's special conditions, chiefly the hard core of unemployment and the fear of many with jobs that they may lose them.

Many industries prefer to pay overtime when orders call for more output rather than hire new workers and become involved in all the fringe benefits that are an increasing part of the job scene.

And many employees, especially those subject to periodic work week shortening look for other jobs after work, or moonlighting.

It's all part of today's labor picture. To this is now added the example of government embarking on compulsory arbitration in the public interest, and perhaps a trend toward a revamping of labor and management relations on many fronts.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

TWO PRACTICAL jokers shared a hotel room at a big convention in Chicago. One sneaked in early the second night of the doings, filled the bathtub and deposited therein two live ducks he had procured after a long search.

His companion was properly flabbergasted when he saw the ducks paddling about in the tub. "They must have flown in through the window while we were out," surmised the joker. "Sure, sure," agreed his friend, "but what bugs me is—how the dickens did they turn on the water?"

Don Freeman encountered one lady in Las Vegas who hit the jackpot at 3:00 a.m.—and wasn't happy about it at all. "I'll have to be up another hour at least now," she grumbled, "before I can lose all these silver dollars."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

When the tip of the finger is struck with a needle, and the patient's bright red blood is sucked into a thin tube or pipette, it is immediately sent to the laboratory for study.

Many tests are made on this sample of blood, one of the most important of which is the exact count of the number of white corpuscles that it contains. This white cell count, which is made under the microscope, often indicates the nature and the severity of the patient's infection.

Some diseases have been identified by abnormal changes not only in the number of white blood cells, but in their characteristic formation. The white blood cell count is often an extremely helpful contribution to a correct clinical diagnosis.

White blood cells are known to be mobilized in the blood stream as a front line army to fight infection. When, for example, an infection starts on the hand, the body gets the proper signals that an invading bacterial enemy must be counterattacked immediately.

Soon redness and swelling begin to appear around the site of invasion. This is a beginning sign of the defense mechanism at work. The white blood cells have been called to action and have been rapidly sent to take their defending positions.

In the meanwhile, behind the lines, the body is setting up additional barriers against spreading of the infection.

After 24 to 48 hours, the redness in the infected area begins to become more concentrated, the swelling a little more marked, and in the center a tiny white spot begins to appear. Now the abscess is said to be "coming to a head."

When it does, the abscess opens, pus pours out, and the redness and

Gold Drain Proposal

By John Chamberlain

Creative ideas come few and far between. Maybe Bernard L. Lamb, a non-professional student of international monetary affairs from Ho-Ho-Kus, New Jersey, has one.

Like other Americans, Mr. Lamb is concerned about the behavior of Kennedy's advisers — the "Rover Boys from Cambridge", as he calls them — when it comes to prescribing a policy for halting the drain of U. S. gold into foreign hands. In the first quarter of 1963 the deficit in our balance of payments was running at the annual rate of $3.2 billion compared with the deficit of $2.2 billion for the whole of 1962. The second quarter of the year threatened, when the figures were in, to push the deficit to a rate of $3.5 billion. The fault was not due to our exporters, who took in a surplus of $4.5 billion over the cost of imports for 1962, and who are not doing badly this year. What produces the adverse balance of payments is a combination of spending for military defense abroad and for foreign aid, plus investment in wholly or partially U.S.-owned foreign plants.

To Mr. Lamb, it seems crazy that an adverse balance of international payments should bother a rich nation like the United States. After all, this country has lots of long-term debts that are owed to it. To begin, there is upwards of $19 billion carried on the U. S. Treasury's books as World War I indebtedness. Finland has paid us on the World War I debt, but other countries seem to have forgotten all about the financing of the first Armageddon. The U. S. will probably never see the money that our World War I Allies "hid."

There are, however, long-term debts of some $13 billion that are owed to us because of foreign-assistance programs since World War II. A Morgan Guaranty survey breaks the outstanding "live" debt down into $3.7 billion lent by the Export-Import Bank, $3.3 billion remaining from a special loan to the United Kingdom in 1946; $3 billion in other aid loans; $1.8 billion for surplus-property and lend-lease settlements; $1.5 billion for sales of farm products, plus interest and commissions that are still due.

What Mr. Lamb proposes is that we offer France, West Germany, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, and the United Kingdom a ten percent discount for accelerated payment of these loans in their own currencies — francs, pounds, lire, marks, yen, and so on. Then, quoting Mr. Lamb, "we should organize an American Bankers consortium to draw on these currencies for travelers' checks and travelers' letters of credit." American citizens would pay at home in dollars for their travelers' checks, but when the checks were cashed in Europe they would be balanced off against the accelerated payment offerings in francs, pounds, etc., of the nations that owe us long-term money.

Foreign travel might be restricted in certain countries to the use of the foreign currencies. The tourist might be allowed, in Mr. Lamb's plan, a discount on the understanding that the "blocked" funds would be used for travel expense and for gifts purchased in foreign countries.

Maybe Mr. Lamb's idea is not practicable. After all, nobody can be compelled legally to pay off on a long-term debt unless it is so stipulated in the bond. And there might be internal difficulties in kicking up the pounds and lire. But I remember the time I was traveling on a magazine expense account in Europe in 1946. My home office told me to use all the francs needed — after all, it was only "blocked" money. So I spent freely, building up good will — and sources — for my boss. Maybe Mr. Lamb has an idea that would impel lots of Americans to travel. And maybe he has an idea that would be welcomed by Germany, France, etc., as a way of reducing their long-term debt at favorable discount rates without putting up any gold.

Mr. Lamb is an amateur — and this columnist is an amateur in passing the suggestion along. But something has to be done about that drain of gold. Assisted tourism, paid for in foreign currencies carved out of debts that are due us in the future, might possibly be the complement to economist Eliot Janeway's suggestion for tax rebates to exporters. If all this is impracticable, so be it. But all avenues to international solvency seem to this columnist to be worth exploring.

NEW YORK (AP)—Compulsory arbitration of the rail labor dispute adds still another challenge to a year of change in labor-management issues and solutions.

Sabbaticals for long-time em-tim employees, bonuses as compensation for automation, continuous negotiations to minimize strike threats, stress on fringe benefits rather than pay boosts, charges of racial bias by some unions and lack of equal job opportunities, and an increased emphasis on the public interest in labor disputes—all seem to be chiseling out a new look in labor-management relations.

Congress has ordered compulsory arbitration for the first time in a peace year. It has put off—at least for six months—the threat of a strike that would idle the nation's railroads.

The chief issue over what management calls feather bedding — union-protected jobs that the companies say are no longer needed. This issue is debated in a number of other industries.

The issue is a variant of the chief concern in this year's labor talks. The unions primarily are worried over job security — the loss of jobs to machines of new work techniques, or to the changing consumer demand to different products or services. Management is equally concerned over cutting costs or getting into new lines that consumers now fancy.

The steel industry furnished clues to the new trend in three ways this year. First, Kaiser Steel is paying bonuses to workers, their share of savings made through automation. Second, the industry adopted a long-vacation plan that gives workers with seniority extended time-off every few years. And third, the industry licked the strike threat pressure on contract negotiations — this year at least — by setting up a continuously negotiating committee to tackle labor problems as they arise and hammer out a contract ahead of a fixed deadline.

The electrical industry also has had study committees at work well ahead of contract terminations. Now the talks are coming out into the open. Longer vacations and more retirement pay are among the proposals.

Overtime and moonlighting also are coming to the front as issues because of this year's special conditions, chiefly the hard core of unemployment and the fear of many with jobs that they may lose them.

Many industries prefer to pay overtime when orders call for more output rather than hire new workers and become involved in all the fringe benefits that are an increasing part of the job scene.

And many employees, especially those subject to periodic work week shortening look for other jobs after work, or moonlighting.

It's all part of today's labor picture.

To this is now added the example of government embarking on compulsory arbitration in the public interest, and perhaps a trend toward a revamping of labor and management relations on many fronts.

Insect birth control is on the research program. What won't they hatch next?

Not much is expected for a long time from insect birth control. Apparently the scientists figure on laying a few eggs.

Fly birth control brings up the question of whether flies have any purpose in the scheme of things? Or do they just have each other?

Try and Stop Me

TWO PRACTICAL jokers shared a hotel room at a big convention in Chicago. One sneaked in early the second night of the doings, filled the bathtub and deposited therein two live ducks he had procured after a long search.

His companion was properly flabbergasted when he saw the ducks paddling about in the tub. "They must have flown in through the window while we were out," surmised the joker. "Sure, sure," agreed his friend, "but what bugs me is—how the dickens did they turn on the water?"

Don Freeman encountered one lady in Las Vegas who hit the jackpot at 3:00 a.m.—and wasn't happy about it at all. "I'll have to be up another hour at least now," she grumbled, "before I can lose all these silver dollars."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

When the tip of the finger is struck with a needle, and the patient's bright red blood is sucked into a thin tube or pipette, it is immediately sent to the laboratory for study.

Many tests are made on this sample of blood, one of the most important of which is the exact count of the number of white corpuscles that it contains. This white cell count, which is made under the microscope, often indicates the nature and the severity of the patient's infection.

Some diseases have been identified by abnormal changes not only in the number of white blood cells, but in their characteristic formation. The white blood cell count is often an extremely helpful contribution to a correct clinical diagnosis.

White blood cells are known to be mobilized in the blood stream as a front line army to fight infection. When, for example, an infection starts on the hand, the body gets the proper signals that an invading bacterial enemy must be counterattacked immediately.

Soon redness and swelling begin to appear around the site of invasion. This is a beginning sign of the defense mechanism at work. The white blood cells have been called to action and have been rapidly sent to take their defending positions.

In the meanwhile, behind the lines, the body is setting up additional barriers against spreading of the infection.

After 24 to 48 hours, the redness in the infected area begins to become more concentrated, the swelling a little more marked, and in the center a tiny white spot begins to appear. Now the abscess is said to be "coming to a head".

When it does, the abscess opens, pus pours out, and the redness and

Gold Drain Proposal

By John Chamberlain

Creative ideas come few and far between. Maybe Bernard L. Lamb, a non-professional student of international monetary affairs from Ho-Ho-Kus, New Jersey, has one.

Like other Americans, Mr. Lamb is concerned about the behavior of Kennedy's advisers — the "Rover Boys from Cambridge", as he calls them — when it comes to prescribing a policy for halting the drain of U. S. gold into foreign hands. In the first quarter of 1963 the deficit in our balance of payments was running at the annual rate of $3.2 billion compared with the deficit of $2.2 billion for the whole of 1962. The second quarter of the year threatened, when the figures were in, to push the deficit to a rate of $3.5 billion. The fault was not due to our exporters, who took in a surplus of $4.5 billion over the cost of imports for 1962, and who are not doing badly this year. What produces the adverse balance of payments is a combination of spending for military defense abroad and for foreign aid, plus investment in wholly or partially U.S.-owned foreign plants.

To Mr. Lamb, it seems crazy that an adverse balance of international payments should bother a rich nation like the United States. After all, this country has lots of long-term debts that are owed to it. To begin, there is upwards of $19 billion carried on the U.S. Treasury's books as World War I indebtedness. Finland has paid us on the World War I debt, but other countries seem to have forgotten all about the financing of the first Armageddon. The U.S. will probably never see the money that our World War I Allies "hired."

There are, however, long-term debts of some $13 billion that are owed to us because of foreign-assistance programs since World War II. A Morgan Guaranty survey breaks the outstanding "live" debt down into $3.7 billion lent by the Export-Import Bank, $3.3 billion remaining from a special loan to the United Kingdom in 1946; $3 billion in other aid loans; $1.8 billion for surplus property and lend-lease settlements; $1.5 billion for sales of farm products, plus interest and commissions that are still due.

What Mr. Lamb proposes is that we offer France, West Germany, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, and the United Kingdom a ten percent discount for accelerated payment of these loans in their own currencies — francs, pounds, lire, marks, yen, and so on. Then, quoting Mr. Lamb, "we should organize an American Bankers consortium to draw on these currencies for travelers' checks and travelers' letters of credit." American citizens would pay at home in dollars for their travelers' checks, but when the checks were cashed in Europe they would be balanced off against the accelerated payment offerings in francs, pounds, etc., of the nations that owe us long-term money.

Foreign travel might be restricted in certain countries to the use of the foreign currencies. The tourist might be allowed, in Mr. Lamb's plan, a discount on the understanding that the "blocked" funds would be used for travel expense and for gifts purchased in foreign countries.

Maybe Mr. Lamb's idea is not practicable. After all, nobody can be compelled legally to pay off on a long-term debt unless it is so stipulated in the bond. And there might be internal difficulties in kicking up the pounds and lire. But I remember the time I was traveling on a magazine expense account in Europe in 1946. My home office told me to use all the francs needed — after all, it was only "blocked" money. So I spent freely, building up good will — and sources — for my boss. Maybe Mr. Lamb has an idea that would help lots of Americans to travel. And maybe he has an idea that would be welcomed by Germany, France, etc., as a way of reducing their long-term debt at favorable discount rates without putting up any gold.

Mr. Lamb is an amateur — and this columnist is an amateur in passing the suggestion along. But something has to be done about that drain of gold. Assisted tourism, paid for in foreign currencies carved out of debts that are due us in the future, might possibly be the complement to economist Eliot Janeway's suggestion for tax rebates to exporters. If all this is impracticable, so be it. But all avenues to international solvency seem to this columnist to be worth exploring.

Janet Griest Becomes Bride Of Mr. Forrest Easterday

MRS. FORREST D. EASTERDAY

Miss Janet Sue Griest, daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Milton B. Griest, 420 S. Court St., and Mr. Forrest David Easterday, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Easterday Sr., 427 S. Pickaway St., were united in marriage 7:30 p. m. Aug. 23 in the First Methodist Church.

The Rev. Paul Wachs performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli, palms and glowing tapers.

Miss Cathy Griner presented a half-hour program of organ music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk peau fashion with a Sabrina neckline and elbow-length sleeves. Bands of guipure lace enhanced the bodice and controlled bell skirt. Her mantilla of imported English silk illusion was edged with matching Guipure lace and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and white rosebuds.

Mrs. Harry Griest, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore an afternoon length dress of blue sate peau fashion with a sweetheart neckline short sleeves and a Watteau back flowing to the hemline of the full skirt. Her puffed veil was held to a matching floral headpiece and she carried a bouquet of white Fuji mums. Her pearl necklace was a gift from the bride.

Mr. Glenn Easterday served his brother as best man. Ushers were Mr. Harry Griest, Hilliard, O., Mr. Larry Dietrick, Mr. Michael Griffith and Mr. Glenn Metzler.

Mrs. Griest, mother of the bride, wore a pink lace dress with a crushed cummerbund of pink silk organza forming a side drape, and white accessories. Mrs. Easterday the bridegroom's mother, wore an aqua silk dress with a lace bodice, and white accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held following the wedding in the church social rooms. Hostesses were Miss Michelle Funk, Miss Stephanie Marion and Miss Joy Trone.

For a weekend trip the new Mrs. Easterday wore a blue and white suit with white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple reside at 215 1/2 N. Pickaway St.

Out-of-city guests were from Quaker City, Hilliard, Columbus, Mt. Gilead, Waverly, Dayton and Chillicothe.

Several pre-bridal parties were given for the new bride. Miss Michelle Funk and Miss Stephanie Marion honored her with a shower and Mrs. Dwight Steele entertained with a luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Easterday Sr. were hosts for the wedding rehearsal dinner held in The Mecca dining room.

General Meet Slated By WSCS Wednesday

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

You Need The Help!

DEAR ABBY: Why does a woman hang on to a man when she knows he's in love with another woman? I met this man and we became interested in each other. His wife was in the hospital for a month, so nobody could blame him. After his wife came home we continued to see each other, but not so much. I know he loves me because he said so. I wanted to help him bring things to a head, so I called up his wife, pretending to be a third party, and told her all about her husband and myself. I gave her my name and address in case she wanted to check. She said she wasn't interested in anything I had to say. I hear she is back in the hospital again. Should I visit her there and have a woman-to-woman talk with her?

TIED OF WAITING
DEAR TIED: You rank high on my list of predatory women. Someone should put a bounty on your kind. And I'm afraid in this case, the wrong woman is in the hospital.

DEAR ABBY: How old do you think I should be before I can (1) Wear the kind of make-up I want to wear? (2) Go in cars with boys? (3) Pick out my own clothes? My mother and I fuss about this all the time. I would like your opinion.

"SOMEBODY"
DEAR "SOMEBODY": Every girl must live by the rules set down for her. If she is lucky enough to have a mother, she should listen to her mother. I could tell you what my regulations would be for a daughter, but it wouldn't help you because I'm not your mother.

DEAR ABBY: I am going to be married in two months. My mother dug up her grandmother's wedding gown and she wants me to wear it. I tried it on and it is still in very good condition. But it looks so old fashioned! Some very fashionable people will be attending my wedding and I would rather have a new wedding gown. Am I wrong? It's not a matter of money because my father can well afford to buy me a new one.

MIXED EMOTIONS
DEAR MIXED: An heirloom wedding gown is considered VERY fashionable—and the older the better! Most girls would give their blue garters for the opportunity to be married in their great grandmother's gown, but if you can't see it, buy a new one.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BEEN HAD": If you don't mind the publicity, you could take him to court and probably get some of your money back. And in the future, young lady, I advise you to tell him that from now on all he can count on is his fingers!

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

OSU Coed Reigns as Fair Queen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An 18-year-old Ohio State University sophomore reigns as "Miss 110th Ohio State Fair."

She is Leone Vaughn of Columbus, who was selected Thursday from among 20 candidates. Miss Vaughn entered the "Queen of Queens" contest as "Miss Wool of Ohio."

Selected for her court were Ginger Kathrens of Bowling Green, "Miss Ohio Hereford;" Barbara Sergeant of Jackson, "Miss Jackson County Apple Festival;" Jeanne Haewischer of Sidney, "Ohio Short Horn Lass;" and Nancy Bailey of Xenia, "Ohio Pork Queen."

The fair is in its eighth day, with each of the previous days' attendance marks topping those of last year. Thursday's attendance of 36,636 brought the total seven-day figures to 448,706. After seven days last year, 388,523 persons visited the fair.

Today is Farm Women's Day and Farm Machinery Day. It also is "Dr. Pete Day" as proclaimed by Gov. James A. Rhodes. Dr. Louis E. Pete of Ashland has been director of the fair's All-Ohio Boys Band for 32 years. A special grandstand program in his honor was scheduled for 4 p. m.

Funk, Reeser Engagement Is Announced

MISS CAROL LEE FUNK

Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Funk, Casey, Ill., are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carol Lee, to Mr. George E. Reeser III, son of Mrs. Cecil Knece, Circleville, and the late Mr. George Reeser.

The wedding will be an event of Nov. 9, 2 p. m. in the First Christian Church, Casey, Ill.

33 Members, Guests Attend Guild 20 Meet

Berger Hospital Guild No. 20 met in the home of Evelyn Hoover Tuesday evening. There were 21 members and 12 guests present. A kitchenware party added $30 to the Guild Treasury.

Freda Hulse, chairman, conducted the meeting. Members decided to have a barbecue at Gold Cliff Sept. 15. Reservations are to be made with June Wirth by Sept. 12.

Mystery Sister Gifts were received by Etha Mae Wolford, a d. Eloise Dunkle. There were two contests during the evening which were won by Verna O'Hara and Opal Overly. Prizes were given to Freda Hulse, Margaret Evans, Jennie Russell and Martha Hoover.

Members present were: Jean Thompson, Margaret Evans, Opal Overly, Jerry Diltz, Connie McGlone, June Wirth, Annie Mowery, Louise Hoover, Helen Abney, Freda Hulse, Cressie Hall, Frances Rose, Mary Clark, Jennie Russell, Dorothy Justus, Olive Hettlinger, Annabelle Mowery, Mary Stevenson, Rosemary Hansen, Mary Hamilton, Evelyn Hoover.

Education Spending By State Climbs

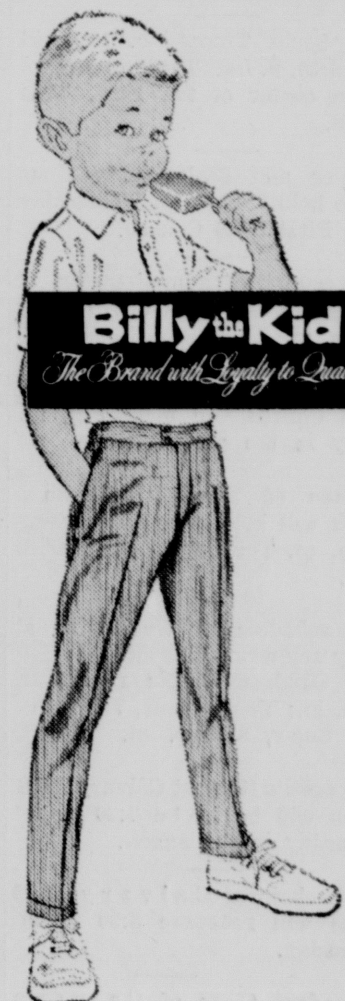

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's total expenditures for education in the 1963 fiscal year was $362.2 million.

Figures released today by State Auditor Roger W. Tracy show that $102 million was spent on the six state-supported universities, and public school expenditures totaled about $260 million. The latter figure includes administrative costs of the Department of Education.

Spending increased $16.2 million or 4.6 per cent over 1962, said Tracy.

Cook thin slices of tender veal in butter or olive oil in a skillet; use high heat and turn once; veal will cook rapidly. Add equal parts of lemon juice and water to the drippings in the skillet and pour over the veal; sprinkle with minced parsley and serve pronto.

Dear Abby: You Need The Help!

DEAR ABBY: Why does a woman hang on to a man when she knows he's in love with another woman? I met this man and he became interested in each other. His wife was in the hospital for a month, so nobody could blame him. After his wife came home we continued to see each other, but not so much. I know he loves me because he said so. I wanted to help him bring things to a head, so I called up his wife, pretending to be a third party, and told her all about her husband and myself. I gave her my name and address in case she wanted to check. She said she wasn't interested in anything I had to say. I hear she is back in the hospital again. Should I visit her there and have a woman-to-woman talk with her?

one should put a bounty on your kind. And I'm afraid in this case, the wrong woman is in the hospital.

DEAR ABBY: How old do you think I should be before I can (1) Wear the kind of make-up I want to wear? (2) Go in cars with boys? (3) Pick out my own clothes? My mother and I fuss about this all the time. I would like your opinion.

"SOMEBODY"
DEAR "SOMEBODY": Every girl must live by the rules set down for her. If she is lucky enough to have a mother, she should listen to her mother. I could tell you what my regulations would be for a daughter, but it wouldn't help you because I'm not your mother.

DEAR ABBY: I am going to be married in two months. My mother dug up her grandmother's wedding gown and she wants me to wear it. I tried it on and it is still in very good condition. But it looks so old fashioned! Some very fashionable people will be attending my wedding and I would rather have a new wedding gown. Am I wrong? It's not a matter of money because my father can well afford to buy me a new one.

MIXED EMOTIONS
DEAR MIXED: An heirloom wedding gown is considered VERY fashionable—and the older the better! Most girls would give their blue garters for the opportunity to be married in their great grandmother's gown, but if you can't see it, buy a new one.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BEEN HAD": If you don't mind the publicity, you could take him to court and probably get some of your money back. And in the future, young lady, I advise you to tell him that from now on all he can count on is his fingers!

OSU Coed Reigns as Fair Queen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An 18-year-old Ohio State University sophomore reigns as "Miss 110th Ohio State Fair."

She is Leone Vaughn of Columbus, who was selected Thursday from among 20 candidates. Miss Vaughn entered the "Queen of Queens" contest as "Miss Wool of Ohio."

Selected for her court were Ginger Kathrens of Bowling Green, "Miss Ohio Hereford," Barbara Sergeant of Jackson, "Miss Jackson County Apple Festival," Jeanne Haewischer of Sidney, "Ohio Short Horn Lass," and Nancy Bailey of Xenia, "Ohio Pork Queen."

The fair is in its eighth day, with each of the previous days' attendance marks topping those of last year. Thursday's attendance of 36,636 brought the total seven-day figures to 448,706. After seven days last year, 388,523 persons visited the fair.

Today is Farm Women's Day and Farm Machinery Day. It also is "Dr. Pete Day" as proclaimed by Gov. James A. Rhodes. Dr. Louis E. Pete of Ashland has been director of the fair's All-Ohio Boys Band for 32 years. A special bandstand program in his honor was scheduled for 4 p. m.

Education Spending By State Climbs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's total expenditures for education in the 1963 fiscal year was $362.2 million.

Figures released today by State Auditor Roger W. Tracy show that $102 million was spent on the six state-supported universities, and public school expenditures totaled about $260 million. The latter figure includes administrative costs of the Department of Education.

Spending increased $16.2 million or 4.6 per cent over 1962, said Tracy.

Local Baha'i Group Lists Weekly Thought

The following is from Baha'i teachings: "The Baha'i Faith does not deny the older religions; it fulfills them. They all look forward to a time when the appearance of a great one, who shall usher in a period unique in human history, shall complete the purpose of the founder of the religion. That time has now come; the advent of Baha'u'llah fulfills prophecies in all the Holy Books."

Church Council Shuns Role of Superchurch

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Sharp complaints erupted here at a meeting of the World Council of Churches that there are tendencies in the organization to consider it a church itself.

Such implications "make the work of Orthodox churches difficult," said Bishop Samuel of Cairo, representing the Coptic Orthodox Church. "I hope we will not go in this line."

The reaction broke after an address by the Rev. W.A. Visser 't Hooft, the council's general secretary, seeking to describe the "meaning of membership" in the council.

The council includes most major Protestant, Old Catholic, Anglican and Orthodox churches round the earth.

One of the long-standing, touchy issues about it has been whether it might evolve into the role of being a world church.

The Rev. Mr. Visser 't Hooft said it was generally agreed that the council "must not only avoid becoming a superchurch, but also avoid giving the impression of being on the way to becoming a superchurch."

He raised the question of whether it is possible to describe the council in "ecclesiological terms" without implying it adds a churchly reality to member churches.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Aug. 30, the 242nd day of 1963. There are 123 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1813, the Ft. Mims Massacre occurred during the Creek Indian War at a temporary stockade 35 miles north of Mobile, Ala. Of the 553 persons who took refuge, only 50 survived.

On this date
In 1781, the French fleet arrived at Chesapeake Bay to aid American revolutionaries against the British.

In 1862 the Second Battle of Bull Run was fought during the Civil War.

In 1924, the agreement for effectuating the Dawes Reparation Plan was signed in London.

In 1939, German military rule was proclaimed in Slovakia.

In 1945, the International Committee of Chief Prosecutors indicted 24 top German leaders as major war criminals.

Ten years ago... The Thai government disclosed that arrests of alleged revolutionaries had uncovered a plot to assassinate members of the cabinet and overthrow the government with aid from Indochinese Communists.

Five years ago... The United States ordered a squadron of fighter planes and an undisclosed number of transport aircraft to the Far East as Chinese Communist artillery shelled the Nationalist-held offshore islands.

One year ago... President Kennedy named W. Willard Wirtz to become secretary of labor succeeding Arthur Goldberg, who moved up to the Supreme Court.

Judge Deplores 'Gaspalitis'

CINCINNATI (AP)—With the Labor Day weekend coming up, Common Pleas Judge Louis Schneider has warned against a "disease" that kills. He calls it "gaspalitis", a term that won't be found in any medical dictionary.

"Gaspalitis", Judge Schneider said Wednesday, is "speed—speed that kills."

The judge used the term "gaspalitis" in denying probation to Donald Gene Hughes, 22, of Milford, driver of a taxicab which struck and killed county Patrolman Emil Kleinwaechter, 43, last July 16 while the officer was directing traffic around an accident on Wooster Pike near here.

Pastor to 1,900 Churchmen Also Busy as Sportscaster

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—Mr. Enthusiasm is the name for Russell Martin.

His energy embraces such diverse fields as the ministry and sports announcing for a radio station. He also travels extensively on evangelistic crusades, writes songs and is active in civic affairs of this northeastern Oklahoma town.

Martin is minister of the First Christian Church. He also is sports director for the radio station and, in that capacity, broadcasts dozens of football and basketball games of area high schools and Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College.

Yet Martin rarely misses a Sunday in his own pulpit. And he has led his church to first in baptisms among both Disciples and New Testament Christian Churches in Oklahoma. In his 17 years here, membership has grown from 450 to 1,900.

A feature of the church is the "Kiddie Kollege," a program conducted each Wednesday after school to encourage youngsters to memorize Scripture on which the church's beliefs are based.

Martin helped organize a boys' baseball program about seven years ago. More than 600 youngsters now play in three leagues.

Mrs. Martin is active, too. She recently took a group of girls from the church on a tour of Bible colleges and frequently takes part in clinics at Ozark Bible College in nearby Joplin, Mo.

She also runs the Martin home, where five of their six children still live. One daughter is married and the Martins have three grandchildren.

Martin was graduated from Cincinnati Bible College in 1940 and spent five years in evangelistic work before he came here. He recently was elected vice president of the American Christian Church Convention.

Plant a crop in deep, rich soil and you plant a crop that will flourish.

Something gives it life. Sun and rain, yes, and certainly rich, abundant soil... and yet, something more, something that gives it the ability to seek and use strength.

Someone gives US life... nourishing food, warm comfortable shelter, these help certainly. But still... something else. Our souls reach far below the surface of everyday existence to find our deeper faith in God's wisdom and power.

We place ourselves at His mercy. We seek Him often in prayer and worship, and "times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord."

Having found this fountain of faith, like the harvest, we point ever heavenward to share with others our discovery.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Local Baha'i Group Lists Weekly Thought

The following is from Baha'i teachings: "The Baha'i Faith does not deny the older religions; it fulfills them. They all look forward to a time when the appearance of a great one, who shall usher in a period unique in human history, shall complete the purpose of the founder of the religion. That time has now come; the advent of Baha'u'llah fulfills prophecies in all the Holy Books."

Rock Fall's on Man's Head, Bringing Death
IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—An industrial accident has claimed the life of Millard Layne, 54, of near-by Pedro. Authorities said Layne, an employee at the Marquette Cement Manufacturing Co. plant near Pedro, was drilling on a hill Wednesday when a rock tumbled down and struck him on the head.

Church Council Shuns Role of Superchurch

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Sharp complaints erupted here at a meeting of the World Council of Churches that there are tendencies in the organization to consider it a church itself.
Such implications "make the work of Orthodox churches difficult," said Bishop Samuel of Cairo, representing the Coptic Orthodox Church. "I hope we will not go in this line."

The reaction broke after an address by the Rev. W. A. Visser 't Hooft, the council's general secretary, seeking to describe the "meaning of membership" in the council.

The council includes most major Protestant, Old Catholic, Anglican and Orthodox churches round the earth.

One of the long-standing, touchy issues about it has been whether it might evolve into the role of being a world church.

The Rev. Mr. Visser 't Hooft said it was generally agreed that the council "must not only avoid becoming a superchurch, but also avoid giving the impression of being on the way to becoming a superchurch."

He raised the question of whether it is possible to describe the council in "ecclesiastical terms" without implying it adds a churchly reality to member churches.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Friday, Aug. 30, the 242nd day of 1963. There are 123 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1813, the Ft. Mims Massacre occurred during the Creek Indian War at a temporary stockade 35 miles north of Mobile, Ala. Of the 553 persons who took refuge, only 50 survived.

On this date
In 1781, the French fleet arrived at Chesapeake Bay to aid American revolutionaries against the British.

In 1862 the Second Battle of Bull Run was fought during the Civil War.

In 1924, the agreement for effectuating the Dawes Reparation Plan was signed in London.

In 1939, German military rule was proclaimed in Slovakia.

In 1945, the International Committee of Chief Prosecutors indicted 24 top German leaders as major war criminals.

Ten years ago ... The Thai government disclosed that arrests of alleged revolutionaries had uncovered a plot to assassinate members of the cabinet and overthrow the government with aid from Indochinese Communists.

Five years ago ... The United States ordered a squadron of fighter planes and an undisclosed number of transport aircraft to the Far East as Chinese Communist artillery shelled the Nationalist-held offshore islands.

Judge Deplores 'Gaspedalitis'

CINCINNATI (AP)—With the Labor Day weekend coming up, Common Pleas Judge Louis Schneider has warned against a "disease" that kills. He calls it "gaspedalitis," a term that won't be found in any medical dictionary.

"Gaspedalitis," Judge Schneider said Wednesday, is "speed—speed that kills."

The judge used the term "gaspedalitis" in denying probation to Donald Gene Hughes, 22, of Milford, driver of a taxicab which struck and killed county Patrolman Emil Kleinwaechter, 43, last July 16 while the officer was directing traffic around an accident on Wooster Pike near here.

The council includes most major Protestant, Old Catholic, Anglican and Orthodox churches round the earth.

One of the long-standing, touchy issues about it has been whether it might evolve into the role of being a world church.

The Rev. Mr. Visser 't Hooft said it was generally agreed that the council "must not only avoid becoming a superchurch, but also avoid giving the impression of being on the way to becoming a superchurch."

He raised the question of whether it is possible to describe the council in "ecclesiastical terms" without implying it adds a churchly reality to member churches.

Pastor to 1,900 Churchmen Also Busy as Sportscaster

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—Mr. Enthusiasm is the name for Russell Martin.

His energy embraces such diverse fields as the ministry and sports announcing for a radio station. He also travels extensively on evangelistic crusades, writes songs and is active in civic affairs of this northeastern Oklahoma town.

Martin is minister of the First Christian Church. He also is sports director for the radio station and, in that capacity, broadcasts dozens of football and basketball games of area high schools and Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College.

Yet Martin rarely misses a Sunday in his own pulpit. And he has led his church to first in baptisms among both Disciples and New Testament Christian Churches in Oklahoma. In his 17 years here, membership has grown from 450 to 1,900.

A feature of the church is the "Kiddie Kollege," a program conducted each Wednesday after school to encourage youngsters to memorize Scripture on which the church's beliefs are based.

Martin helped organize a boys' baseball program about seven years ago. More than 600 youngsters now play in three leagues.

Mrs. Martin is active, too. She recently took a group of girls from the church on a tour of Bible colleges and frequently takes part in clinics at Ozark Bible College in nearby Joplin, Mo.

She also runs the Martin home, where five of their six children still live. One daughter is married and the Martins have three grandchildren.

Martin was graduated from Cincinnati Bible College in 1940 and spent five years in evangelistic work before he came here. He recently was elected vice president of the American Christian Church Convention.

Malaysia Formation Delayed until Sept. 16
KUALA LUMPUR (AP)—Malaya agreed today to postpone from Aug. 31, to Sept. 16 the formation of Malaysia, a federation to unite Malaya, Singapore, North Borneo and Sarawak.

Malaya, senior partner in the proposed Southeast Asian nation, indicated its decision resulted from world received from U.N. Secretary-General U Thant that a United Nations survey of opinions in North Borneo and Sarawak would be completed Sept. 14.

Plant a crop in deep, rich soil and you plant a crop that will flourish.
Something gives it life. Sun and rain, yes, and certainly rich, abundant soil . . . and yet, something more, something that gives it the ability to seek and use strength.
Someone gives US life . . . nourishing food, warm comfortable shelter, these help certainly. But still . . . something else. Our souls reach far below the surface of everyday existence to find our deeper faith in God's wisdom and power.
We place ourselves at His mercy. We seek Him often in prayer and worship, and "times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord."
Having found this fountain of faith, like the harvest, we point ever heavenward to share with others our discovery.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Surrender at Peniel

HOW ONE CAN CONFORM MORE AND MORE TO GOD'S WILL THROUGH THE EXPERIENCES GOD GIVES HIM

Scripture—Genesis 29—36.

By N. SPEER JONES
WE CONTINUE this week with the life of Jacob, and we see him here being led more and more closely to God's will.

Fleeing Esau's wrath, and following Isaac's orders, Jacob returns to the land of his relatives and forebears. As Isaac himself had found his beloved Rebekah there, so his son finds his beloved there, too—Rachel, the younger daughter of his uncle, Laban.

Haran was the place farthest north in the lives of the patriarchs. The district lay in northern Mesopotamia; the town, southeast of Edessa.

The name means "road," probably derived from the fact that in that town the trade routes from Assyria, Babylonia and Media met, proceeding by one road from there to the coast of Cilicia.

The Assyrians regarded it as a strategic post of vital importance.

and there when we are absent one from another." The name comes from "mizpah," watch-tower.

In the next chapter we come to the first full prayer recorded in the Bible, as Jacob falls to his knees to ask God for deliverance from Esau. It is one of true humility and entreaty.

Yet Jacob still does not trust completely in God's will and ability to deliver him, for he resorts again to his own ingenious mind and sends presents ahead to appease Esau.

It is at Peniel, on what is now called the Blue River (Wady Zerka), which flows into the Jordan midway between the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea, that Jacob is finally convinced of God's power. God apparently felt that if Jacob wrestled the land of Palestine from Esau by his own trickery, he would never become a true child of God. So he sent ance, as well as a commercial center. In Greek and Roman times it was called Carrae; there Crassus was slain by the Parthians, and, later, Caracalla by Macrinus' troops. By the 14th century A.D. it was in ruins.

There Jacob, who had tricked his father regarding his blessing, is in turn tricked by Laban when he gives him Leah instead of Rachel.

This treacherous nature of Laban's apparently plagued Jacob all the time he was in Haran, until he left the area. After Laban pursues Jacob he becomes humiliated and realizes it would be best for him to maintain peace with his increasingly powerful son-in-law.

So at the end of Chapter 31 we come to what is known as the "Mizpah Benediction"—"The Lord watch between me and thee when we are absent one from another."

Mrs. Anna Beeman has moved from the apartment at Main and Pickaway St. She now lives on S. Main in the home formerly owned by the late Mrs. Maude Yable.

Ohioan Uses Smoke Bomb In Maryland Robbery

BALTIMORE (AP) — Joseph Vernon Bickar of Canton, Ohio, has been charged in the smoke-bomb robbery of a branch bank. He is being held in lieu of $25,000 bond.

Witnesses said the bandit, wearing glasses, a hat and a raincoat, robbed a shopping center branch of the Equitable Trust Co. Thursday then exploded a smoke bomb to discourage pursuers.

Bank officials said the loss amounted to $6,800.

3 Ohio Electric Firms Plan Vast Power Pool.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Officials of three electric companies have announced plans to link generators and power lines in a vast power pool.

The firms — Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co., Dayton Power & Light Co. and Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co.—said Thursday the idea is to provide additional capacity at a lower investment and operating cost than any one company could provide.

Construction is to start next year on a $50 million, 400,000-kilowatt generating plant at the Cincinnati utility's Walter C. Beckjord station near New Richmond in Clermont County. Service is expected by June 1968.

HOW ONE CAN CONFORM MORE AND MORE TO GOD'S WILL THROUGH THE EXPERIENCES GOD GIVES HIM

Scripture—Genesis 29—36.

By N. SPEER JONES
WE CONTINUE this week with the life of Jacob, and we see him here being led more and more closely to God's will.

Fleeing Esau's wrath, and following Isaac's orders, Jacob returns to the land of his relatives and forebears. As Isaac himself had found his beloved Rebekah there, so his son finds his beloved there, too—Rachel, the younger daughter of his uncle, Laban.

Haran was the place farthest north in the lives of the patriarchs. The district lay in northern Mesopotamia; the town, southeast of Edessa. The name means "road," probably derived from the fact that in that town the trade routes from Assyria, Babylonia and Media met, proceeding by one road from there to the coast of Cilicia. The Assyrians regarded it as a strategic post of vital importance.

GOLDEN TEXT

"Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time."—1 Peter 5:6.

ance, as well as a commercial center. In Greek and Roman times it was called Carrage; there Crassus was slain by the Parthians, and, later, Caracalla by Macrinus' troops. By the 14th century A.D. it was in ruins.

There Jacob, who had tricked his father regarding his blessing, is in turn tricked by Laban when he gives him Leah instead of Rachel.

This treacherous nature of Laban's apparently plagued Jacob all the time he was in Haran, until he left the area. After Laban pursues Jacob he becomes humiliated and realizes it would be best for him to maintain peace with his increasingly powerful son-in-law.

So at the end of Chapter 31 we come to what is known as the "Mizpah Benediction"—"The Lord watch between me and thee, when we shall be separated, as the U.S.A., and used by permission.

Smokeyjumpers Form Elite Corps

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — A smokejumper is somewhat like a frail jumbo expert who climbs into the ring with a heavyweight.

He faces a larger, and stronger foe. But he knows that one swift, precise blow—if timed and placed correctly—can topple his opponent.

An elite corps of 175 men, on standby at Missoula throughout the summer, can be ready in minutes to fly to any area in the nation. Actually, most jumps occur in the Pacific Northwest, principally Montana and Idaho. But Missoula-based men also parachute into fires in Alaska or New Mexico.

Dedicated in 1954 by President Eisenhower, the Missoula smokejumper center was officially named the Missoula Aerial Fire Depot. The site includes a sizable training area that looks much like an Army paratrooper school. It is the largest of eight such facilities in the nation.

"We take considerable pride in our training program," says Henn.

Atheists Lose Land Grant To Church

PHILLIPSBURG, Kan. (AP)—A California physician who almost gave a major portion of the tiny Kansas town of Speed to an atheist movement now wants to give part of it for a church.

Dr. Harold Chapman of Oakland, Calif., inherited the property from his father, one of Speed's founders. The town in northwest Kansas has dwindled during the years until its population now numbers about 80.

Mrs. Madalyn Murray, Baltimore atheist who plans to open a colony at nearby Stockton, said Dr. Chapman had offered her a big chunk of Speed real estate. The announcement stirred up a furor in Speed and the doctor, asserting his offer had been misrepresented, withdrew it.

He made his new offer in a letter to the Phillips County Review, a weekly newspaper. He proposed to give a now unused bank building in Speed to the town's people for use "as a church and community meeting place."

Speed has no church now.

ry J. Viche, air operations officer. "We've made 55,000 jumps since 1940 without a fatality caused during the descent or landing."

"About 1,000 young men apply for smokejumper duty at Missoula each summer. We take about 60 of them. We're choosy and we keep our standards high."

An applicant is rejected if he hasn't worked one summer on a regular fire suppression crew.

"Our typical smokejumper," says Viche, "is a college student about 24. He must meet demanding physical requirements but there are no limitations on academic background. We get them from all fields—we often get applications from divinity students."

Viche, born in Missoula, has been with the U.S. Forest Service for 34 years.

Viche directs all aerial operations in Region One—33-million-acre that includes all of Montana and parts of Idaho, Washington and North Dakota.

Foresters say the secret of the smokejumpers' success is speed. "The sooner we get to a fire, the better the chance of controlling it," says Viche. "Once a fire spreads over thousands of acres, we have to work on several fronts."

"Eighty per cent of the fires still are small when we get to them. We're able to confine them quickly."

First-year men are paid $2.20 an hour—a rate that also applies for overtime.

Rhodes Cancels Plan For Aerial Survey

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes today canceled plans for a Sept. 4 flight over the entire route of the North-South Freeway, portions of which are under construction.

The governor gave no reason for the cancellation. But aides said some officials in Cleveland and Cincinnati, where stops were planned, would be unable to attend.

Original plans called for newsmen, highway department officials and others to make the trip.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There are no bad television shows. Some are just luckier than others.

At least that's the way it seems if one listens to discussions by producers, directors and stars.

The most common cause of program mortality appears to be an ailment called "bad time slot." This means that if a program failed in the late evening, it would have succeeded in the early evening. Or vice versa. Or that, if it died on a Monday night, it would have been the hit of the year on a Thursday.

Usually, however, it means that it was murdered by the competing program which attracted most of the viewers.

Never has a program died because it was too bad for the public. But television's Boot Hill is heavily populated with series that succumbed because, it is alleged, they were "too good for the public."

Two program deaths last season were attributed to this fatal ailment: "It's a Man's World" and the "Merv Griffin Show."

By general agreement, the best television home opera made was a short-lived series called "The Westerner." It succumbed, according to most expert diagnoses, because the same experts assert, they were too fanciful.

Now, on the eve of a new television season, the odds are being studied by producers and chances for success of new shows are being anxiously weighed. Some — a very few — will be his and some will quietly disappear. Survival will be attributed as usual, to superior quality. Failure, as usual, will be nothing but bad luck, poor position or that unappreciative public.

Arthur Godfrey will do a special for NBC — a Thanksgiving program. The veteran performer, after all those years as a CBS star, now is free to make television appearances on other networks, and is anxious to get a regular, weekly series.

Cayuga Indians Preparing Tribute for Orator Logan

EDITOR'S NOTE: Through efforts of Cayuga Indians across the land, a fitting tribute, the first ever on a nationwide level, will be paid to Logan, the eloquent orator who delivered his now famous speech at the historic Logan Elm site south of here. The Cayugas, claiming Logan as an ancestor, say his label as a Mingo orator is erroneous. The widespread acclaim, a part of New York State's third annual observance of American Indian Day, is scheduled Sept. 21 at Auburn, N.Y. Historically minded Circleville organizations have been invited to send messages to be read at the celebration.

AUBURN, N. Y. — Cayuga Indians scattered about the nation will return to this city Sept. 21 for the first tribute in more than a century to Logan, whose oration at the famous Logan Elm south of Circleville brought their ancestors reflected glory.

The occasion will be New York State's third annual observance of American Indian Day, dedicated this year to the Cayuga Indians.

Plans of the Iroquois Temperance League, the Empire State's oldest and largest all-Indian organization, call for 2 P. M. ceremonies at Emerson Park at Owasco Lake (junction of N. Y. Routes 5 and 20) and a pilgrimage to the monument to Logan at the Ft. Hill Cemetery in this city.

The league has named Miss Delphine Logan of Nedrow, N. Y., a lineal descendant of the Cayuga orator, and Professor Walter K. Long of this city as co-chairman of the coming celebration. Raymond Moses, Basom, N.Y., past president of the Indian temperance league, said Cayuga Indians from Oklahoma, Wisconsin, New York and other widely scattered points in the nation plan to attend and take part.

"We also expect Cayugas from the Six Nations Indian Reservation near Brantford, Ontario, Canada, to join their American brothers and sisters at Auburn," Moses said.

Moses is acting as invitations chairman for the Indian league. Leonard Redeye, Salamanca, N. Y., league president, appointed Melvin W. Petterson, Indian newspaperman from Kenmore, N. Y., master of ceremonies.

Patterson and Moses today joined in inviting publicly all historically-minded Circleville organizations to send messages to be read at the celebration. These should be addressed to Professor W. K. Long, director, Cayuga Museum of History and Art, Auburn, N. Y.

"We are asking the Cayugas from western points to stop at the Logan Elm, near Circleville, while on their way to Auburn. We understand that there will be a sizable delegation of Cayugas coming to Auburn from Seneca Indian country in Oklahoma. It may be that in some future year a pilgrimage to Circleville can be organized," Patterson said.

Patterson explained that Cayugas in the U. S. have no reservation of their own. He described the people of Logan, the Cayuga orator, as comparable to the children of Israel before establishment of present-day Israel. When the American Revolution ended, he said, the Cayugas who had their ancestral home at Auburn, with hunting grounds in Ohio, were victims of a state bonus paid in lands to Revolutionary War veterans.

"The governors of the State of New York helped to effect a questionable land deal by which all Cayugas in New York lost their lands and became wanderers in the nation," Patterson said. "The State of New York bought for a song their most valued Empire State lands, leaving the Cayugas landless and disillusioned wanderers. This is the first time since the days following the American Revolution that Cayugas will visit their ancestral home in New York."

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

ASSISTANCE: Foreign Aid Director David E. Bell says the House would — if allowed to stand — undercut the Alliance for Progress program and force a one-third reduction in arms help to countries which rim the Iron Curtain.

Bell also said at a news conference Thursday that if the $355-million cut is sustained by the Senate, the result would be "a severe setback to U.S. efforts to defeat the Communist thrust around the world."

The foreign aid authorization for this fiscal year now stands at $3.5 billion—$1 billion below President Kennedy's request. Actual Funds will be provided in a separate appropriations measure.

JUNKETS: State Department plans to send U.S. delegations to 531 different international conferences this fiscal year have netted sens. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., and Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash.

"I think some of this is being overdone," McClellan told Richard Gardner, deputy assistant secretary of state for international organization affairs, Thursday when he urged a Senate Appropriations Committee to restore $197,000 cut by the House from funds to finance the delegations.

So many government delegations are circling the world on missions "they may be working at cross purposes," Magnuson said. "I'm afraid that the right hand may not know what the left hand is doing."

Gardner proceeded to explain the purposes of the conferences, but the senators showed little enthusiasm for them.

RECORD: Federal civilian payroll costs reached an all-time high of $15,346,000,000 in fiscal 1963, a Senate-House committee reported today.

This was an increase of more than $1 billion over the $14,296,000,000 cost in fiscal 1962. Postal workers got an 8.6-per cent pay raise last fall and classified Civil Service employees a 5.5-per cent boost.

Total civilian employment by the government averaged 2,493,374 in the fiscal year ended June 30 compared with 2,443,808 in the preceding year.

FISHING: Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass., expressed concern today with activities of a fleet of Russian fishing vessels off Cape Cod.

"I have been following the situation closely with the Coast Guard which has the Russians under surveillance," Kennedy said in a statement.

The Coast Guard has counted 169 vessels in the fleet, he said and added: "There are undoubtedly many more... concealed by fog cover."

He called this an "ominous pattern" and said "intrusions can be anticipated" from a fleet of that size.

The President's youngest brother is pressing for legislation that would permit stronger penalties, including seizure, against ships fishing illegally in American waters.

LE Schools Start New Term With Full Day

The Logan Elm District Schools will open Tuesday for a full day it has been announced by John Henn, executive head.

Elementary schools at Washington, Salt Creek and Pickaway will run from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. while the high school classes will begin at 8:25 a. m. and last until 3:35 p. m.

Bus routes in the school district will be essentially the same as last year according to Henn. The cafeterias will be open.

LE Personnel Slates Get Acquainted Event

Logan Elm School District teachers and other employees will hold a "get acquainted" pot luck supper at the high school cafeteria 6:30 p. m. Sept. 7, it was announced by John Henn, executive head of the school district.

New teachers and personnel will be introduced at that time.

'The Best Man' Film Slated For Eve of Campaign in 1964

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — With the 1964 presidential election approaching, United Artists is confident "The Best Man" will win.

The company is backing a film version of the hit play by Gore Vidal and giving it a presidential cast. Starring are Henry Fonda ("Young Mr. Lincoln") and Cliff Robertson ("PT 109"). There also is Lee Tracy, who played the third top role, that of the peppery ex-president, on Broadway.

Adapting the play to film is Vidal. Part of the deal when he sold the film rights was that he would go along as adapter.

He sold a hit play, "Visit to a Small Planet," to the movies and it ended up as a vehicle for Jerry Lewis.

"I didn't see the Lewis picture, but I read the script," said Vidal. "As far as I could see, they used none of my material."

"The Best Man" was first placed in the hands of Frank Capra, whose "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" and "State of the Union" made him seem a natural. But the collaboration soured.

The project was revived by producers Stuart Miller and Larry Turman. It will be in the theaters by next spring, when the presidential fever should be pitched high.

"I'm very pleased at the prospects," said Vidal. "The casting is fine, and I'm delighted that Lee Tracy will be doing his part. I take credit for that."

Although the play is more than three years old, Vidal said little updating was needed.

"The Best Man" concerns chicanery within a party convention and was written by a political insider. Vidal is the grandson of a senator and himself ran unsuccessfully for Congress. He admitted to having some help with the play.

"President Kennedy read the first draft and gave me a couple of lines," said Vidal. "One thing he told me was there was one way to be sure when a politician was going to knife you. That was when he said in parting, 'Just let me know if there's anything I can do for you.'"

Smokejumpers Form Elite Corps

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — A smokejumper is somewhat like a frail judo expert who climbs into the ring with a heavyweight.

He faces a larger, and stronger foe. But he knows that one swift, precise blow—if timed and placed correctly—can topple his opponent.

An elite corps of 175 men, on standby at Missoula throughout the summer, can be ready in minutes to fly to any area in the nation. Actually, most jumps occur in the Pacific Northwest, principally Montana and Idaho. But Missoula-based men also parachute into fires in Alaska or New Mexico.

Dedicated in 1954 by President Eisenhower, the Missoula smokejumper center was officially named the Missoula Aerial Fire Depot. The site includes a sizable training area that looks much like an Army paratrooper school. It is the largest of eight such facilities in the nation.

"We take considerable pride in our training program," says Henry J. Viche, air operations officer. "We've made 55,000 jumps since 1940 without a fatality caused during the descent or landing."

"About 1,000 young men apply for smokejumper duty at Missoula each summer. We take about 60 of them. We're choosy and we keep our standards high."

An applicant is rejected if he hasn't worked one summer on a regular fire suppression crew.

"Our typical smokejumper," says Viche, "is a college student about 24. He must meet demanding physical requirements but there are no limitations on academic background. We get them from all fields—we often get applications from divinity students."

Viche, born in Missoula, has been with the U.S. Forest Service for 34 years.

Viche directs all aerial operations in Region One—33-million-acre that includes all of Montana and parts of Idaho, Washington and North Dakota.

Foresters say the secret of the smokejumpers' success is speed.

"The sooner we get to a fire, the better the chance of controlling it," says Viche. "Once a fire spreads over thousands of acres, we have to work on several fronts."

"Eighty per cent of the fires still are small when we get to them. We're able to confine them quickly."

First-year men are paid $2.20 an hour—a rate that also applies for overtime.

Twins Clobber Senators with Dozen Homers

Doubleheader Sweep Of 14-2, 10-1 Gives Jolt to Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Even 225 miles away, Gil Hodges must have felt the shock waves.

Hodges was home in Brooklyn and the blasting went on in Washington, where Minnesota's muscular Twins creamed the Senators for 12 homers among 35 assorted hits Thursday for a runaway doubleheader sweep, 14-2 and 10-1.

By hitting eight homers in the opener, the Twins matched a single game major league record, and by adding four more in the second game they picked up a pair of big league marks—15 for three consecutive games and 17 for four. They collected five in their doubleheader split at Washington Monday.

Between the doubleheaders, Hodges spent the two days off in Brooklyn—and was stuck there when he got hit by a virus. The Washington manager still was confined to his home when the Senators got hit by the Twins.

Rookie left-hander Gary Peters registered his 11th straight victory and smacked a two-run homer for the Chicago White Sox, who clipped Cleveland 7-2 and stayed in ahead of the Twins in their battle for second place in the American League.

Boston and Bill Monbouquette stopped New York's front-running Yankees, scoring on Elston Howard's passed ball in the ninth inning for a 4-3 decision. That left the Yankees 11 games ahead of the White Sox, with the Twins another one-half game behind in third.

In the AL's other game, Hank Aguirre fired a two-hitter and Al Kaline took over the league batting lead as the Detroit Tigers rolled to their eighth straight victory, 6-1 over the Los Angeles Angels. Kansas City and Baltimore were idle.

The Los Angeles Dodgers increased their National League lead to 6½ games, routing second-place San Francisco 11-1. Also in the NL, the Chicago Cubs nipped Philadelphia 2-1 and the New York Mets beat Pittsburgh 7-4.

Harmon Killebrew was Minnesota's biggest belter at Washington with three of the 12 homers, while Vic Power, Jim Hall and Bernie Allen each had two. Bob Allison, Rich Rollins and Zoilo Versalles added one apiece. The dozen was one shy of the major league high for two games.

Lee Stange, coasting behind a 20-hit offense, was the opening game winner. He held Washington scoreless until Ken Retzer homered with one on in the seventh. Dwight Seibler, a recent addition to the Twins staff, gave up only three hits in winning the second game.

CHS Grid Coach Starts Series of Booster Nights

Circleville football coach Paul Starr has designated every Wednesday night during the football season as Booster Club night.

At that time the coaching staff will meet with the Tiger Boosters to show films and review the game of the preceding Friday.

Scouting reports of the upcoming Tiger opponent will be discussed during the meeting. A question and answer period will be conducted.

The location of the meeting will be announced at a later date.

The University of Kentucky won 129 consecutive basketball games on its home court between Jan. 4, 1943 and Jan. 8, 1955, a national record.

Interesting Football Season Promised by Ohio State Pilot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State football followers can look forward to another interesting season this fall.

That's the word from W. W.

"I think we'll have a pretty good ball club, too," said Hayes, whose candid remarks often take an optimistic note.

The veteran Ohio State coach, launching his 13th year, made his appraisal at the school's pre-season football dinner at the plush Scioto Country Club.

With only nine of 22 regulars returning from last year's offensive and defensive units, Hayes faces his biggest rebuilding job since coming here in 1951.

"There's no question that we're green," Hayes admits. "But potentially we have some good football players and the boys are enthusiastic."

Hayes points to Northwestern and Wisconsin as the teams to beat in the Western Conference. Improvement and Indiana will be. But he's quick to add that Michigan should show the most improvement.

The Buckeyes open four weeks of two-day drills Monday and only 19 lettermen will be among the 72 players who will greet Hayes at the opening session.

Top returnee from the 1962 squad that won six and lost three is Paul Warfield, a genuine two-way player and a strong candidate for All-America honors.

The Buckeye coach figures that sophomores probably will play an important role on this year's team.

Of the 27 on the squad, the most heralded is Tom Barrington, a 6-foot-1, 205 pound quarterback from Lima.

Barrington, a brilliant runner, good punter and fine defensive performer, should see plenty of action if he recovers fully from an industrial accident last month that left him with a fractured jaw.

Others counted on heavily are Ormonde Ricketts, an end, and guard Tom Jenkins, from the offensive unit and ends Matt Snell and Bill Spahr; tackles Ed Orazen and Dan Porretta and backs Arnie Chonko and Steve Dreffer from the defensive squad.

Hayes says coaches everywhere are going to have to make adjustments because of the new substitution rules "that just about do away with platoon football."

"A lot of these kids are going to have to play more. They're going to find themselves playing both ways," he added.

Other experienced hands available include halfbacks Ben Espy and Ty Barnett from the offensive unit and end Tom Kichfuss, guards Al Parker and Wes Mirick; tackles Chuck Mamula and backs Bob Bruney, Doug Drenik and Don Harkins from the defensive array.

The Bucks get their first test Sept. 28 when they open at home against Texas A & M.

The remainder of the schedule: Oct. 5— at Indiana; Oct. 12— Illinois; Oct. 19— at Southern California; Oct. 26— at Wisconsin; Nov. 2— Iowa; Nov. 9— Penn State; Nov. 16— Northwestern; Nov. 23— at Michigan.

Circleville Stars Win Again At Chillicothe

Byrd Hurls Local Unit to 7-5 Victory Over Richmondale

The Circleville Little League All Stars won another game on the tournament trail, this time beating Richmondale, 7-5, in the Chillicothe Little League invitational.

Circleville trailed 2-0 in the first frame. The locals countered with one in the second, and finally copped the lead with three in the fourth.

The Stars went on to get one in the fifth and two in the sixth. Richmondale banged two in the fifth and one in the seventh.

Dale Byrd twirled the win for the locals. He gave up seven hits and struck out seven.

WELCH took the loss. He allowed 13 hits and fanned eight.

Byrd aided his win with a homer and a single. Bryce Brown hammered out two doubles, Ed Wells added one and Ty Ankrom belted a double and a triple. Tassler walked a homer and two singles.

Smith walloped a homer for Richmondale. Skeen added a double and Welch had two singles.

The local Stars face Henniss Builders Supply 8 p. m. tonight on the Chillicothe diamond.

There are six teams remaining in the double elimination tourney—Circleville, Chillicothe Merchants, Greenfield, Henniss Builders Supply, Latham and Waverly.

Game Officer Is Named For Pickaway

Richard Wolfrom, Wilmington, has been named new Pickaway County game protector, it was announced yesterday by Dale E. Whitesell, chief of the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Wolfrom, who has been a wildlife patrolman in southwestern Ohio, is married and the father of two sons. His assignment to Pickaway County becomes effective Sept. 16.

He became a game protector at large in 1954 and a patrolman in 1956.

In another move effecting District 5, which includes Pickaway County, Wayne E. Knisley, Delaware, an area wildlife patrolman in Delaware County, will function on a district wide basis as will all other wildlife patrolmen in the district.

Copland Is Guard, Linebacker at CHS

Tom Copland, Circleville High School guard and linebacker introduced in the "Meet the Tiger" series in The Herald Wednesday is the son of Mrs. Sue Copland, 265 Sunset Drive.

Mrs. Copland's name was inadvertently left out of the summary beneath the picture of her son.

Dick Egan, Detroit rookie southpaw, appeared as a relief pitcher in 14 of the Tigers' first 37 games this season.

PCC Golf Title Battle Slated For Labor Day

The Pickaway Country Club golf championships, men's and women's divisions, are scheduled for Labor Day.

In the women's division Joan York defeated Mirta Young to gain a match with Bette Fraser, who defeated Mary Carpenter. The 18-hole championship match is scheduled to begin at 1 p. m.

Vieing for the men's championship will be Bruce Helwagen and Brent Bell, both prominent young golfers at PCC.

Helwagen defeated Bob MacFadden while Bell downed Tom McGuire to gain the 36-hole playoff.

Helwagen and Tim Dickinson will meet for the first flight playoff while Carl Heffelfinger will play Jim Dancy for the second flight championship. C. H. Bradshaw will play Bob Wellington for the third flight championship.

Peg Mason defeated Mary Lou Vaughan in the final match of the first flight in the women's division. The second flight title went to Martha Mary Bower who defeated Mary Eaton in the final match.

Club Shots

Mary Carpenter won low gross with a 45 in Ladies Day activities at the Pekaway Country Club yesterday.

Sue Spires won low net with a 37 while Hester Weldon and Edith Gordon tied for low putts with 14.

Venturi, Johnston Set Pace in Denver

DENVER (AP)—Bill Johnston and Ken Venturi led the field into the second round today of the $40,000 Denver Open Golf Tournament. Both stroked four-under-par 66 in the opening round Thursday.

The bulky field of 145 pros will be cut after today's second round to the low 65 and ties for the final rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Rex Baxter Jr., leader for the first two rounds last year, was one stroke behind at 67 along with Bill Eggers, Pat Rea and Lionel Hebert.

At 68 were Duff Lawrence, Tommy Morrow, Bob Duden, Jacky Cupit, Juan Rodriguez, Mike Souchak, Ron Funseth, Bob Goetz and Dave Hill, the 1961 champion.

Badly-Beaten Indians Now Face Tigers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Out of the frying pan and into the fire. That's the predicament facing the Cleveland Indians tonight when they meet the blazing Detroit Tigers, who have won eight in a row.

The Indians were raked over the coals in four losses to the Chicago White Sox, including Thursday night's 7-2 setback at the hands of southpaw Gary Peters, rookie sensation who has won 11 straight games.

Cleveland's Barry Latman battled Peters stoutly for seven innings and was in a 2-2 deadlock. But in the eighth inning, the Sox chased Latman and scored five runs, including a two-run homer by Peters.

Peters (16-5) checked the Indians on six hits and struck out eight. The strikeouts gave him a total of 166, tops in the American League.

The 26-year-old rookie spotted Cleveland two runs in the first inning. Woodie Held walked leading off (the only walk off Peters) and one out later, rookie Vic Davalillo smashed his sixth homer of the season. It sailed over the right field fence. Max Alvis got two of Cleveland's hits.

There are six teams remaining in the double elimination tourney—Circleville, Chillicothe Merchants, Greenfield, Hennis Builders Supply, Latham and Waverly.

Game Officer Is Named For Pickaway

Richard Wolfrom, Wilmington, has been named new Pickaway County game protector, it was announced yesterday by Dale E. Whitesell, chief of the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Wolfrom, who has been a wildlife patrolman in southwestern Ohio, is married and the father of two sons. His assignment to Pickaway County becomes effective Sept. 16.

He became a game protector at large in 1954 and a patrolman in 1956.

In another move effecting District 5, which includes Pickaway County, Wayne E. Knisley, Delaware, an area wildlife patrolman in Delaware County, will function on a district wide basis as will all other wildlife patrolmen in the district.

Copland Is Guard, Linebacker at CHS

Tom Copland, Circleville High School guard and linebacker introduced in the "Meet the Tiger" series in The Herald Wednesday is the son of Mrs. Sue Copland, 265 Sunset Drive.

Mrs. Copland's name was inadvertently left out of the summary beneath the picture of her son.

Dick Egan, Detroit rookie southpaw, appeared as a relief pitcher in 14 of the Tigers' first 37 games this season.

PCC Golf Title Battle Slated For Labor Day

The Pickaway Country Club golf championships, men's and women's divisions, are scheduled for Labor Day.

In the women's division Joan York defeated Miriam Young to gain a match with Bette Fraser, who defeated Mary Carpenter. The 18-hole championship match is scheduled to begin at 1 p. m.

Vieing for the men's championship will be Bruce Helwag and Brent Bell, both prominent young golfers at PCC.

Helwag defeated Bob MacFadden while Bell downed Tom McGuire to gain the 36-hole playoff.

Helwag and Tim Dickinson will meet for the first flight playoff while Carl Heffelfinger will play Jim Dancy for the second flight championship. C. H. Bradshaw will play Bob Wellington for the third flight championship.

Peg Mason defeated Mary Lou Vaughan in the final match of the first flight in the women's division. The second flight title went to Martha Mary Bower who defeated Mary Eaton in the final match.

Club Shots

Mary Carpenter won low gross with a 45 in Ladies Day activities at the Pickaway Country Club yesterday.

Sue Spires won low net with a 37 while Hester Weldon and Edith Gordon tied for low putts with 14.

Venturi, Johnston Set Pace in Denver

DENVER (AP)—Bill Johnston and Ken Venturi led the field into the second round today of the $40,000 Denver Open Golf Tournament. Both stroked four-under-par 66 in the opening round Thursday.

The bulky field of 145 pros will be cut after today's second round to the low 65 and ties for the final rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Rex Baxter Jr., leader for the first two rounds last year, was one stroke behind at 67 along with Bill Eggers, Pat Rea and Lionel Hebert.

At 68 were Duff Lawrence, Tommy Morrow, Bob Duden, Jacky Cupit, Juan Rodriguez, Mike Souchak, Ron Funseth, Bob Goetz and Dave Hill, the 1961 champion.

Badly-Beaten Indians Now Face Tigers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Out of the frying pan and into the fire. That's the predicament facing the Cleveland Indians tonight when they meet the blazing Detroit Tigers, who have won eight in a row.

The Indians were raked over the coals in four losses to the Chicago White Sox, including Thursday night's 7-2 setback at the hands of southpaw Gary Peters, rookie sensation who has won 11 straight games.

Cleveland's Barry Latman battled Peters stoutly for seven innings and was in a 2-2 deadlock. But in the eighth inning, the Sox chased Latman and scored five runs, including a two-run homer by Peters.

Peters (16-5) checked the Indians on six hits and struck out eight. The strikeouts gave him a total of 166, tops in the American League.

The 26-year-old rookie spotted Cleveland two runs in the first inning. Woodie Held walked leading off (the only walk off Peters) and one out later, rookie Vic Davalillo smashed his sixth homer of the season. It sailed over the right field fence. Max Alvis got two of Cleveland's hits.

Physicals Set Tuesday for Jr. High Gridders

Physicals for Circleville Junior High School football candidates will be given 7 p. m. Tuesday in the high school gymnasium, it was announced today by Jim Shaw, junior high coach.

Grid hopefuls who cannot take examinations at this time should pick up a card and get a physical before 9 a. m. Sept. 6 when the cards must be turned in.

Shaw said four managers will be needed for the junior high team.

The Tiger junior high unit will play a six-game schedule this year, with the first tilt slated Sept. 26 at Chillicothe Mt. Logan. Here is the schedule.

Sept. 26 at Mt. Logan
Oct. 3 at Washington C. H.
Oct. 10 Chillicothe
Oct. 17 Mt. Logan
Oct. 24 at Chillicothe
Oct. 31 Washington C. H.

In Memoriam

In memory of our son, James Arthur (Jimmie) Brown, who passed away on January 14, 1963 at 2 months of age. From the village, deep in the valley. One rainy morning, dark and grey. A soul winged its way to Heaven. Jimmie Brown had passed away. Just a lonely bell was ringing. In the little valley town, where he was born. Was farewell that it was singing. To our little Jimmie Brown. And the little congregation. Prayed for guidance from Above. Lead us not into temptation. May his soul find his salvation. Of Thy great eternal love. Last verse of "The Three Bells" by The Browns. Sadly missed by mother, and father, Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Jack) Brown and children.

In memory of our Jennifer Lynn Brown, who would have been six years old this Aug. 26th.

"She is Just Away"
You cannot say, you must not say. That she is dead. She is just away! With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand, She has wandered into an unknown land. And left us dreaming how very fair. It needs must be, since she lingers there. So think of her faring on, as dear. In the love of There as the love of here. Think of her still as the same, and say. She is not dead, she is just away. From the writings of James Whitcomb Riley. Remembered by mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Jack) Brown and children.

In Memoriam

In memory of our son, James Arthur (Jimmy) Brown, who passed away on January 14, 1963 at 7 months of age. From the village, deep in the valley. One rainy morning, dark and grey. A soul winged its way to Heaven. Jimmie Brown had passed away. Just a lonely bell was ringing. In the little valley, where he lay. Was far away, that it was singing. To our little Jimmie Brown. And the little congregation. Prayed for guidance from Above. Lead us not into temptation. May his soul find his salvation. Of Thy great eternal love. Last verse of "The Three Bells" by The Browns. Sadly missed by mother, and father, Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Jack) Brown and children.

In memory of our Jennifer Lynn Brown, who would have been six years old this August 28th. "She is Just Away". You cannot say, you must not say. That she is dead. She is just away! With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand. She has wandered into an unknown land. And left us dreaming how very fair. It needs must be, since she lingers there. So think of her faring on, as dear. In the love of there as the love of here. Think of her still as the same, and say. She is not dead, she is just away. From the writings of James Whitcomb Riley. Remembered by mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Jack) Brown and children.

Ohio Ranks High In Fur Output

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio ranks high in fur production among the states, according to a U.S. Bureau of Fish and Wildlife Service leaflet reviewing the 1961-62 trapping season. A total of 658,998 furs was harvested by Buckeye trappers, and Ohio ranked second in the muskrat harvest with a total of 477,833 pelts.

Ohio Fishing Chances To Be Just Fair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fair fishing conditions over most of the state have been forecast by the Ohio Division of Wildlife for the fall season, which begins the Labor Day weekend.

Here is the outlook by sections: Lake Erie and Sandusky Bay — Fair on all species but especially good for perch.

Some smallmouth bass, walleyes and white bass and catfish can be found around the island area. Northwestern — Good lake and stream conditions.

Northeastern — Best fishing at Pymatuning Lake, Ashtabula County, and lakes in Summit County. Lakes and streams are clear with some bass, bluegills and catfish.

East central and southeastern — Some of the better spots are Burr Oak and Dow Lakes, Athens County; Forked Run, Meigs County; strip mine ponds, Morgan County, and Veto, Washington County.

Central and southern — Fishing pressure is extremely light with best results at Jackson Lake, Jackson County. Most lakes are in fair to good condition.

Southwestern — Nearly all streams are in perfect fishing condition. The major lakes are mostly clear and normal. One of the better lakes is Grant in Brown County, where bass and bluegills can be found. Crappie fishing at Acton Lake is not as good as in the past.

High School Cage Stars Sign at UofC

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati said today two more Ohio high school football stars have signed letters of intent to enroll next month.

They are halfback Bill Heyward of Dayton Roth and end John Parker of East Palestine. Heyward, 6-2 and 192, averaged 5.7 yards a carry during the 1962 high school season. Parker is a 200-pounder who stands 6-1.

of producing oil wells in Ohio is running far ahead of the national average. The "hottest" spot right now centers in the Crawford, Delaware, Knox, Marion, Morrow, and Wyandot County area. The division said of the 106 oil or gas wells drilled in that area, 36 were productive and 72 dry. This is an average of one out of three productive, while the national average is one out of 10.

The Ohio Division of Wildlife urges southeastern Ohio anglers to avail themselves of the good fishing at the 14 hilltop ponds just northwest of Ironton in Lawrence County.

The Ohio Division of Forestry reports an increase in the number of ticks in the state's forests this year. Reports indicate that chiggers also were more than in recent years.

Some big rattlesnakes are being found in Tar Hollow State Forest. A district forester reports he killed two big ones on consecutive days in July.

The latest angler to win Huskie Muskie Club membership is 10-year-old Brent Williamson of North Madison, who pulled a 46-inch, 25½-pound muskie from Grand River in Ashtabula County Aug. 11. Brent is the youngest fisherman ever to qualify for regular membership in the club.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Under nearly clear skies Thursday night, fog gradually developed in most sections of Ohio. There was considerable fog by early morning in the river valleys.

Temperatures at the same time averaged near 60 in most communities, including Cleveland 56, Columbus 58, Cincinnati 57 and Marietta 63.

Somewhat cooler air is expected to persist over Ohio today through Saturday. This will result in mild daytime temperatures and cool nights.

Dry weather is also likely to continue. However, there is a slight chance of a few showers in the northern counties late tonight or Saturday.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average seven to ten degrees below normal. Normal high 77-79, normal low 55-62. Cooler Saturday, continuing cool through Wednesday. Rainfall will average one-half inch or more as a few showers Saturday, rain or showers about Monday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average about nine degrees below normal. Normal high 80-85, normal low 57-61. Cool most of period. Rainfall will total about one-half inch or more as a few periods of rain early next week.

Five Points

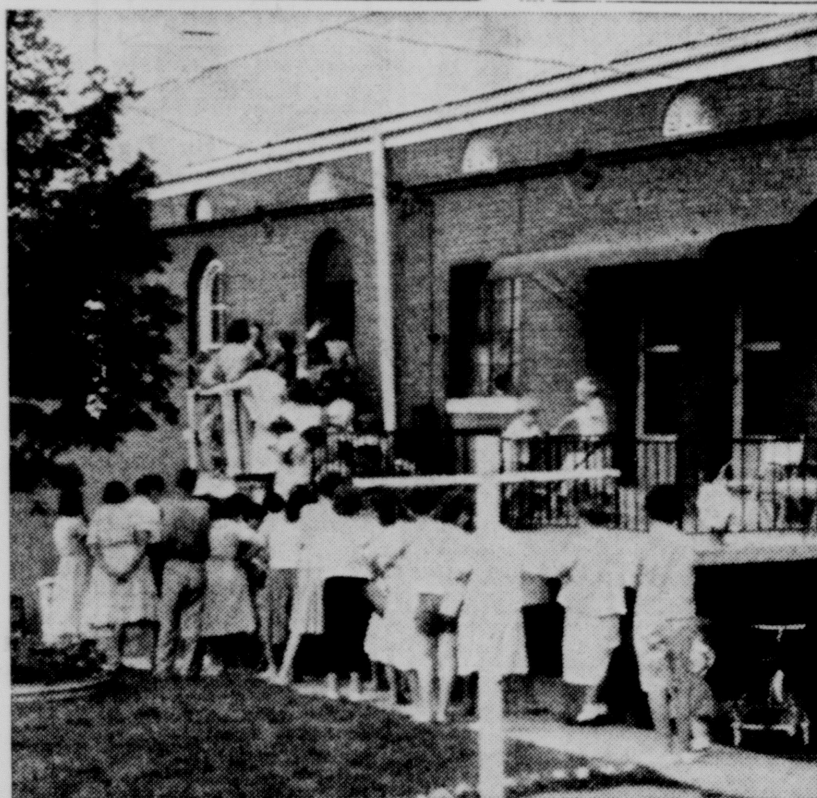

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Styer, Mrs. Josie Jenkins and Mrs. Elizabeth McPherson of Columbus were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Loring Steer.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hix and children of Mt. Sterling were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hix and daughter, Marilyn. Additional afternoon and evening guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hix and sons of Grove City.

Miss Dianna Younk of Columbus was the house guest of Miss Marilyn Hix from Wednesday until Sunday evening.

Mrs. June Sheets and daughter, Sue, and Miss Joy Davis enjoyed a vacation trip to Mammoth Cave and other points of interest during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rivers returned home Sunday from a 10-day vacation trip to New Orleans, Mississippi and other places of interest.

CLOTHING CENTER ACTIVITY — The Clothing Center at the Veterans Apartments on W. High St. was a busy place during today's initial opening. The Center, sponsored by the Pickaway County Juvenile Court, has been established as a source for those in need of clothing and other household articles. The many items are donated by area residents. Noting a successful operation here this year, court officials said almost 150 persons visited the Center during early hours today.

Cuyahoga Dem Boss Resigns Party Post

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ray T. Miller, who has ruled the Democratic Party in Cleveland and Cuyahoga County for more than a quarter of a century, has resigned for the fourth time. But this time it probably will stick.

Miller, the 71-year-old county chairman who has been Cleveland mayor and county prosecutor in a 50-year political career, stunned party leaders Thursday night by submitting his resignation.

Twice before when he "resigned," Miller picked a successor. This time he did not. The leadership goes temporarily to Vice Chairman Dan W. Duffy, long-time associate of Miller.

Miller made the surprising announcement at a routine business meeting of the party's executive committee. The 200 committee members greeted it with cries of "No, no!"

Motions were passed to table the resignation with pleas for Miller to reconsider.

"I want this resignation to stand," Miller said flatly. "That's my decision and it's got to hold."

The meeting finally broke up with Duffy handling the gavel. Miller has been a tremendous political force, always delivering huge Democratic majorities in state and national elections. He has lost some political battles, but his organization always remained strong. He commanded an unshakable loyalty from his lieutenants.

Hearing Due Sept. 13 In Air Force Robbery

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Emanuel Morton Siegel, 57, of New York is scheduled to appear before a U.S. commissioner here Sept. 13 for a preliminary hearing on a charge of attempting to bribe an Air Force civilian employee handling a $9.5 million contract.

The hearing had been scheduled for Thursday, but was postponed on mutual consent of counsel.

Siegel was arrested Aug. 17 by the FBI after he allegedly attempted to influence Charles Lopez, chief of the electronics division at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, in a decision on the contract.

At that time, Siegel was vice president of Local Electronics Corp. of the Bronx, N. Y.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Under nearly clear skies Thursday night, fog gradually developed in most sections of Ohio. There was considerable fog by early morning in the river valleys.

Temperatures at the same time averaged near 60 in most communities, including Cleveland 56, Columbus 58, Cincinnati 57 and Marietta 63.

Somewhat cooler air is expected to persist over Ohio today through Saturday. This will result in mild daytime temperatures and cool nights.

Dry weather is also likely to continue. However, there is a slight chance of a few showers in the northern counties late tonight or Saturday.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average seven to ten degrees below normal. Normal high 77-79, normal low 55-62. Cooler Saturday, continuing cool through Wednesday. Rainfall will average one-half inch or more as a few showers Saturday, rain or showers about Monday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average about nine degrees below normal. Normal high 80-85, normal low 57-61. Cool most of period. Rainfall will total about one-half inch or more as a few periods of rain early next week.

Five Points

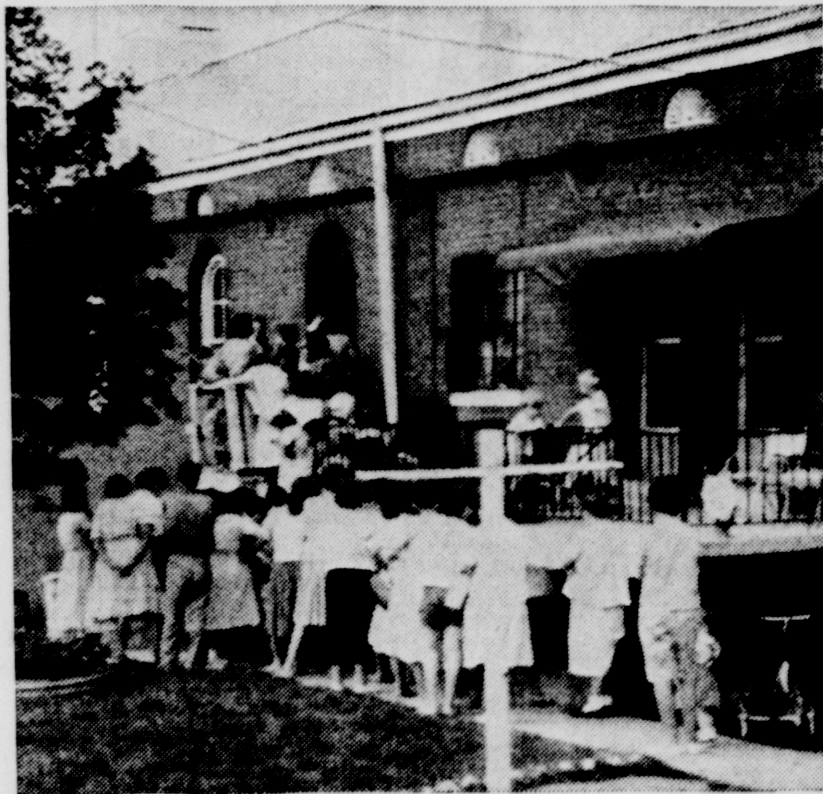

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Styer, Mrs. Josie Jenkins and Mrs. Elizabeth McPherson of Columbus were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Loring Styer.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hix and children of Mt. Sterling were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hix and daughter, Marilyn. Additional afternoon and evening guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hix and sons of Grove City.

Miss Dianna Younkin of Columbus was the house guest of Miss Marilyn Hix from Wednesday until Sunday evening.

Mrs. June Sheets and daughter, Sue, and Miss Joy Davis enjoyed a vacation trip to Mammoth Cave and other points of interest during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rivers returned home Sunday from a 10-day vacation trip to New Orleans, Mississippi and other places of interest.
